Dr. Paul and Rosalie Zito

Born in Albany, New York in 1917, Dr. Paul Zito was the oldest of four children of first generation Sicilian immigrants. His father was a boilermaker and his mother was a seamstress, and both worked tirelessly to support their family. While in elementary school, Paul and his family relocated to Brooklyn. Starting at a young age, Paul assumed some of his parent's burden by working at many jobs as he went through school. From selling Bungalow Bars to working on a ship at sea for an entire summer at age 15, Paul developed a work ethic and level of responsibility that would continue throughout his life.

After high school graduation at age 16, Paul decided that he wanted to attend college. Unfortunately, he and his parents did not have the means to afford that luxury. However, his parents were able to collect enough money from nearby relatives to enroll him in St. John's University. While at St. John's, Paul felt responsible to continue to pay his own way for future semesters. He worked at the post office at night and during holidays and even sold his blood as often as possible to cover expenses. His academic achievements allowed him to receive a scholarship to the Long Island College of Medicine, now known as SUNY Downstate Medical School. He graduated at the top of his class and completed his internship and residency in general surgery.

While attending a postgraduate surgical training session at the University of Pennsylvania, Paul met Peter Renda, a fellow doctor from Brooklyn and the two quickly became friends. One day, Peter suggested that Paul take his sister, Rosalie, to a dance. Paul agreed and the two ended up falling in love and becoming engaged. However, Paul and Rosalie would soon be separated.

December 7, 1941, will always be a day that will "live in infamy" due to the attack on the United States at Pearl Harbor. The day after the attack, Paul enlisted in the United States Navy and was sent to the Pacific Theater as a surgeon. He was stationed aboard ship in a destroyer escort convoy. When needed, he would be transported between vessels, deck to deck, by rope and a chair attached to a pulley. During one surgery, he recounted that the waves were so violent that he needed to tie his one leg to the operating table to perform a lifesaving procedure on a sailor.

At the conclusion of the war in 1945, Paul, now a naval Lieutenant, returned safely to New York and married his fiancé, Rosalie. Enjoying his naval career, he became the chief of surgery for two VA hospitals outside of New York City. During this time, they started a family, having a daughter while living in Brooklyn.

The Zito family had a choice to make after the closure of one of the VA hospitals. Should they move to Kansas City so that Paul could hold the same naval position, or should he move into private practice? A friend contacted Paul that the chief of surgery in Perth Amboy, New Jersey had just passed away in a car accident. There was a need for someone to fill the position at a group of hospitals right across the bridge. In 1951, the family of three were transplanted to Perth Amboy to fill the void after Paul retired from the Navy as a Lieutenant Commander. Shortly after, Paul and Rosalie had a new member of the family, a son.

Paul worked tirelessly at his surgical career. He was one of the few general surgeons in the area and would be called to the operating room day and night. Rosalie and their children were always aware that he could be required to leave from any event or activity at a moment's notice. However, his dedication to his field did not go unnoticed. He was a fellow of numerous national and international medical associations and traveled the world lecturing to other surgeons, receiving many accolades and awards over the years. He created new techniques and procedures in the field of surgery, for a time even holding a Guinness World Record for the removal of the world's largest tumor. Paul also created many innovative programs for surgical residencies which are still used today. He was a role model to many and was held in the highest regard by his colleagues and friends.

Coming from such a humble beginning, Paul could never have imagined where his life would lead. In return for his good fortune, he and Rosalie were benefactors of many organizations and gave back to their community in many ways, with Paul serving multiple terms as a city councilman. In his private surgical practice, Paul treated patients from varying backgrounds and even from other countries. A large percentage of the patients could not pay the full amount for procedures or office visits, if they could pay at all. But Paul never turned anyone away. He performed countless examinations and procedures either for a reduced fee or for free. Sometimes, patients would graciously offer to thank him or supplement their contribution through barter or small gifts. Paul was a true humanitarian in every sense of the word. He was kind to everyone he met and treated everyone with respect, a quality which he passed along to later generation of his family. His surgical career lasted over 50 years, and even in retirement, he stayed on top of the latest trends in surgery through classes and medical articles.

Although surgery was his passion, Paul's family was his priority and his true source of happiness. He was a devoted father and grandfather to his only grandchild. Toward the end of his life, Paul divulged to Rosalie that he always had a love for numismatics and rare coins. Growing up, he never thought that he would be in a position to purchase these types of luxury items. In addition, during his surgical career, he never had much time to explore the nuances of the coin market. However, in his retirement, he decided that he would like to purchase a handful of rare coins as a hobby and an investment. As with fellow numismatists, he developed a passion and hunger to seek out rare coins of increasing value, resulting in this nearly 100-coin collection. Since Dr. Zito's death in 2005 at the age of 87, his family has cherished this collection which he worked so hard to create. Now, for the first time in almost 30 years, these pieces of history will be available to continue their legacy and journey from one generation to the next. We hope that each of these coins make you as happy as they made Dr. Paul Zito.

Welcome to the Dr. Paul and Rosalie Zito Collection

I am truly honored to present the Dr. Paul and Rosalie Zito Collection, one of the most astounding cabinets we have handled in recent years. The Zito Collection was formed through private transactions beginning in September 1995 and ending in August 2003. During those eight years, the Zitos managed to assemble a formidable cabinet of world-class rarities that rivals some of the greatest built in the modern era. Stored safely by the family since Dr. Zito's death in 2005, this collection is a venerable time capsule of the highest end of U.S. numismatics at the turn of the century.

The Dr. Paul and Rosalie Zito Collection is highlighted by an incredible pair of "pattern" 1907 Indian $10 eagles including a 1907 Wire Rim graded MS-68 (NGC) that was acquired in June 1998 and a 1907 Rolled Rim graded MS-67 (PCGS) CAC that has been off the market since March 2003. Either of these rarities on their own would signal a legendary cabinet, yet to have both appearing in consecutive lots in the Zito Collection is astounding.

Accompanying these two gilded treasures is a magnificent Gem 1795 Draped Bust silver dollar. Plated in the 1993 Complete Encyclopedia of Silver Dollars by Q. David Bowers, this 1795 dollar has long been recognized as one of the most prized survivors of the BB-52, Centered Bust dies. Acquired in May 1996 and held privately since, we are thrilled at the chance to present this treasure to a new generation of specialists.

In addition to this spectacular trio, the Zito Collection offers a tour through some of the most iconic gold issues to emerge from the United States Mint. Early Capped Bust coinage is represented by a bold AU-50 (PCGS) 1795 Small Eagle half eagle, as well as MS-63 (NGC) examples of the 1799 half eagle and eagle. A captivating prooflike MS-64 (PCGS) 1872 eagle is tied for the finest known and a MS-64 (NGC) CAC 1860 double eagle ranks near the top of the Condition Census. Radiant MS-

64 (NGC) Round and Octagonal 1915-S Panama Pacific Exposition $50 gold pieces are offered near the end of the session, followed soon after by a nicely matched five-piece 1886 gold Proof set offered in individual lots.

The Zito Collection comprises 92 individual coins, nearly all which reside in early holders from PCGS and NGC including no-line NGC "Fatty" holders and many Old Green Label PCGS holders. They were reviewed by CAC in recent weeks but are otherwise left just as Dr. Zito originally acquired them. The overall quality and eye appeal are astounding for the assigned grades, and we expect tremendous excitement when these treasures cross the auction block in our Spring 2022 Auction.

On behalf of the entire Stack's Bowers Galleries team, I thank you for your consideration of the magnificent Zito Collection and wish you the best of luck in your bidding.

Sincerely,

James McCartney

SMALL CENT

Iconic 1909-S V.D.B. Lincoln Cent

4001

1909-S Lincoln. V.D.B. MS-65 RB (NGC). CAC. Among the most famous coins in American numismatics and one that even non-collectors have sought ever since its introduction, the 1909-S V.D.B. Lincoln cent has stood the test of time in terms of popularity. This Gem MS-65 RB (NGC) CAC example showcases flashes of golden-bronze luster on the obverse with dark sapphire-blue near the borders. The reverse offers a vibrant display of violet, magenta, and electric blue all illuminated by intense satin luster. Lovely in-hand and among the most desirable specimens known.

The centennial of Lincoln's birth in 1909 provided an opportunity for Theodore Roosevelt to continue with his "pet crime" to revitalize the nation's coin designs. Sculptor and medalist Victor David Brenner had designed some medals for Roosevelt in 1908 and also created a bronze plaque featuring the now familiar profile of Lincoln. Brenner suggested to Roosevelt that the cent would be an excellent choice to commemorate Lincoln, especially since Longacre's Indian design was half a century old by that time. Brenner placed his initials at the very bottom on the reverse, a decision that would come to be controversial.

Almost immediately these initials prompted questions and soon their prominent placement proved to be too much; within days new dies were prepared with the initials removed entirely. While the Philadelphia Mint had already produced nearly 28 million coins ahead of the release date, the San Francisco facility had only struck 484,000 examples before the initials were removed. Instantly the San Francisco Mint coins were recognized as rarities and quickly absorbed into numismatic hands with premiums charged for the pieces. Over a century later, the 1909-S V.D.B. Lincoln cent remains one of the most prized issues to emerge from the United States Mint.

QUARTER DOLLAR

The Eliasberg Proof 1898 Barber Quarter Acquired Directly from the Mint in 1898 The Sole Finest at NGC in this Category

1898 Barber Quarter. Proof-69 (NGC). A virtually perfect jewel and an old friend of our firm, this Proof 1898 quarter is a true prize for the advanced collector. It sports a vibrant and original patina of orange-gold color near the centers with violet and sapphire-blue iridescence near the rims. The surfaces remain pristine and virtually flawless under a glass, with razor sharp definition to all elements. Satiny luster on the devices is framed by deep reflectivity in the fields that certainly hints at a Cameo designation upon first glance. It sports an incredible provenance that begins at the U.S. Mint shortly after striking, which is where J.M. Clapp acquired it in November 1898. Nearly a century later, it was offered in our legendary sale of the Eliasberg Collection in April 1997, where it was described as “certainly one of the very finest remaining specimens”. Acquired by our consignor just a month after that sale in 1997, this piece represents a monumental opportunity for the advanced Barber coinage or Proof type specialist.

Along with the Proof issues of 1896 and 1897, the 1898 is the most consistently well produced and attractive in the series.

Even so, few survivors from a mintage of 735 Proofs are as exquisite as this gorgeous specimen. This was a pivotal year in American history. The Spanish-American War took place over a period of just a few months and projected the United States as a territorial power, picking up Cuba, the Philippines, other properties, and, in a slightly different way, Hawaii. It was a very slow time in the rare coin market and likely many of the Proofs of this year did not find buyers. Luckily, this gorgeous and virtually-perfect specimen has been cherished and carefully guarded over the past century and it remains one of the most exquisite survivors known. It is surely destined for another very sophisticated cabinet.

SILVER DOLLARS

The Only Certified Specimen 1795 Centered Bust Dollar Off the Market Since May 1996 The Bowers Plate Coin

4003

1795 Draped Bust Silver Dollar. BB-52, B-15. Rarity-2. Centered Bust. Specimen-65 (PCGS). We are honored to present this historic Specimen striking of the 1795 Draped Bust dollar. It represents the only Specimen 1795 BB-52, Centered Bust dollar graded by either PCGS or NGC and one of only three Specimens known for the overall 1795 Draped Bust issue. Swaths of sapphire blue iridescence blend with golden bronze and pearly silver coloration across each side of this exquisite Gem. This patina remains fully undisturbed by friction and is illuminated by intense underlying luster. The fields boast considerable prooflike reflectivity which is most intense on the reverse. A uniform ring of razor-sharp denticles frames each side, indicating a deliberately centered strike. The devices exhibit astounding sharpness that is more sculptural than numismatic. Each strand of hair in Liberty's portrait is distinct and each feather on the eagle's wings is prepared to take flight. Traces of minor planchet adjustment are visible around Liberty's ear and at the right obverse edge, indicating the careful preparation of the planchet before striking. Similarly, there are lintmarks above the eagle's head, left by the cloth used to wipe the dies clean, evidence of the special consideration this coin received preparatory to striking.

Long acknowledged as something special, this piece was featured as the plate coin for the variety in Q. David Bowers' 1993 Complete Encyclopedia of United States Silver Dollars. Bowers links this piece to the enigmatic R. Tettenhorst, aka Bernard Edison, who is most famous for his inclination towards magnificent half cents and large cents, including assembling the legendary Missouri Cabinet. This Specimen silver dollar was acquired for the Zito Collection in May 1996 and has been held privately for the past 25 years. Here is an incredible auction opportunity for the most advanced specialists of silver dollars and early American presentation coinage.

While the definition of what constitutes a Specimen has changed over time, the fact remains that a handful of special coins exists among pieces struck at the Philadelphia Mint in the 18th century. They are distinctive not just for their grade or eye appeal, but for their method of manufacture and the care with which they were struck. Many, though not all, of these special coins happen to be from the first years of their design type--the present piece included. The reason they were produced was never recorded, and they rarely meet the modern definitions of what a "Proof coin" should be. However, experienced numismatists have long focused on these coins and elevated them, knowing that a few are just so clearly different from their ilk that particular forethought must have been involved in their creation. This is one such coin, a first-year issue of the Draped Bust type that represents the birth of this iconic design as coined within the Philadelphia Mint.

Writing in his Proof coin Encyclopedia (1977), Walter Breen indicates that "pieces qualifying as presentation coins exist of both [1795 Draped Bust] varieties...there are possibly 3 or 4 presentations coins of each". In the 45 years since, we have seen the emergence of two Specimens of the BB-51, Off-Center Bust variety, including an SP-62 (NGC) and the magnificent SP-66 (PCGS) Pogue coin that realized $1,057,500 in our May 2016 sale. The present SP-65 (PCGS) represents the only recognized Specimen from the BB-52, Centered Bust variety, and it may be a unique treasure. The entire numismatic world is sure to be watching when the historic Zito specimen crosses the auction block in our Spring 2022 sale.

Early Silver Dollars of the United States

Silver dollars, the largest silver coins of the realm, became a reality in November 1794 when 1,758 coins of the Flowing Hair design were selected as being suitable for circulation. By that time the dollar was a familiar term in America. Indeed, Continental Currency notes issued by the fledgling American government in the 1770s had been denominated in Spanish milled dollars—the popular name for silver coins of the eight reales value.

Following passage of the Mint Act of April 2, 1792, authorization was provided for the coinage of copper half cents and cents, silver half dimes, dimes, quarters, half dollars, and dollars, and gold quarter eagles, half eagles, and eagles. Before the coinage of precious metals could take place at the new Mint, however, a surety bond was required, which at the time of that facility's opening in 1793, was too high to be met. Thus only copper coins were struck in 1793, beginning with cents, struck in February, delivered by the coiner on March 1, and released into circulation March 15.

The surety bond requirements were adjusted and met in 1794. While the coinage of half cents and cents was done for the Mint's own account, and a profit was registered on the difference between face value and the cost of copper, silver and gold coins were minted only at the specific request of depositors. In the early 1790s the Mint had no bullion account of its own. A depositor of silver or gold had to call at the Mint at a later time to receive coins.

The first silver coins were made in November 1794 and consisted of half dollars and dollars. The obverse was what numismatists call the Flowing Hair design, with Miss Liberty facing right and tresses of hair streaming to the left. Among silver dollars of the Flowing Hair design there is one die combination for the classic 1794 and over two dozen for 1795.

The Draped Bust design made its debut in autumn 1795. Two obverse dies of the new design were made, after a sketch by noted portraitist Gilbert Stuart (according to James Ross Snowden's 1861 account). The Draped Bust design with revised Small Eagle reverse was used in 1796 and 1797 and in early 1798, after which the Heraldic Eagle replaced it. Draped Bust dollars with Small Eagle reverse are challenging to find in high grades. Most examples in collections range from VF to EF, with an occasional AU. Mint State pieces are few and far between.

Draped Bust dollars with Heraldic Eagle reverse were struck beginning in 1798 and featured a reverse motif by Robert Scot that had first been used on the 1796 $2.50 gold quarter eagle and is an adaptation of the Great Seal of the United States. Draped Bust, Heraldic Eagle dollars were made for circulation through 1804, although in that final year all were produced using earlier dated dies. The very rare 1804-dated silver dollars, among the most famous of all United States coins, were first minted for presentation and numismatic purposes circa 1831-1834 and were not intended as a regular circulating issue.

After 1804, no silver dollars were minted for general circulation for three decades, until December 31, 1836, when 1,000 coins were delivered bearing Christian Gobrecht's Liberty Seated design on the obverse and a Flying Eagle on the reverse.

Incredible Near-Mint 1798 Heraldic Eagle Dollar Tied for Condition Census #2

1798 Draped Bust Silver Dollar. Heraldic Eagle. BB-122, B-14. Rarity-3. Pointed 9, Wide Date. AU-58 (NGC). A visually stunning example that approaches Mint State preservation. Strong satiny luster blankets the fields, and the surfaces remain free of any significant distractions. Overall pearly-gray with hints of champagne-gold iridescence under certain lighting. In addition to the superior preservation, this piece is remarkable for the extremely late die state with catastrophic cracks and die failure most visible at the left obverse border, equivalent to BB Die State VII. It even displays a small reverse crack through the O of OF that Q. David Bowers calls "Rare" in his 2013 reference. Though unlisted in Stephen J. Herrman's Winter 2021 census, it would be tied at CC#2 with just three other examples at the AU-58 level. A significant prize for the advanced specialist.

Silver dollar production continued at a good clip into 1798. Official Mint records report that 327,536 examples of the denomination were coined in the 1798 calendar year, including coins bearing dates other than 1798. Bowers estimates that around 235,000 1798-dated coins were actually struck. The BB-122 variety is of moderate conditional rarity within this striking period, with most examples found in the lesser Very Fine levels of preservation. However, above Extremely Fine this die pairing becomes extremely scarce. The condition census just barely breaches the Mint State threshold with one or two pieces, leaving the majority of the census concentrated in the middle to lower About Uncirculated grades. The present lot sits nicely near the top end of this population and has not been offered publicly in over 25 years.

1799 Draped Bust Silver Dollar. BB-163, B-10. Rarity-2. MS-63 (NGC). OH.

Stunning Choice Mint State 1799 Dollar Tied for Condition Census #2

1799 Draped Bust Silver Dollar. BB-163, B-10. Rarity-2. MS-63 (NGC). OH. This is a visually stunning example with superior eye appeal and surface quality that is fit for a world-class collection. The luster is incredibly satiny and undisturbed by any individual abrasions, exhibiting strong prooflike qualities in the fields. Overall platinum-white in color with subtle hints of gold and electric-blue toning at the outermost edges. Though unlisted in Stephen J. Herrman's Winter 2021 census, it would be tied at CC#2 with just one other MS-63, which we previously sold in our June 2012 auction. The old-style NGC "fatty" holder certainly contributes additional appeal.

As one of the two most frequently encountered die marriages of the 1799 dollar, alongside the BB-166, the BB-163 is a perennial favorite with type collectors at all levels of preservation. However, the vast majority survive in lower circulated grades up through only Very Fine. Q. David Bowers suggests that "this variety must have been well distributed in the channels of commerce, or there may be some other explanation why so few high grade coins were saved." Bowers goes on to note that "the offering of a Mint State coin should be a major event". Acquired by our consignor in September 1997 and held privately since, this offering will certainly prove to be a "major event" for the many advanced specialists who will be competing for this treasure.

GOLD DOLLARS

Gem 1851 Gold Dollar Only Three Finer at CAC

4006

1851 Gold Dollar. MS-66 (NGC). CAC. An appealing, conditionally rare example of the first design type in the United States Mint's circulating gold dollar series. Lustrous and satiny surfaces remain pristine beneath a glass and exhibit a pleasing blend of peach and powder-blue color. Fully struck, expertly preserved with remarkable definition to Liberty's hair, this is simply a delight to behold. One of the finest known with just six ranked higher at NGC and only three listed finer at CAC.

Struck at a time of high mintages due to the great influx of California gold, the 1851 was produced to the extent of 3,317,671 pieces and is ideal for type collections. While Mint State survivors are plentiful by the standards of this series, most collectors will have to settle for a coin that grades no finer than MS-64. Gems in MS-65 are scarce in an absolute sense, while anything finer is undeniably rare. In MS-66 (NGC) CAC the Zito specimen is solidly in the Condition Census for the issue and will please even the most discerning gold enthusiast.

Gorgeous Gem 1854 Type II Gold $1

1854 Gold Dollar. Type II. MS-65 (NGC). Here is an elusive Gem example of the scarce Type II gold dollar, a visually stunning piece with a warm blend of apricot and honey-gold shades throughout. Strong prooflike reflectivity glimmers in the fields and dramatic evidence of die clashing surrounds the central elements. A desirable and new-to-market specimen fit for the most sophisticated collector of U.S. gold type. Only eight coins rank finer at NGC.

The small 12.7 mm diameter of the Type I gold dollar brought about complaints of it being easy to lose, like the silver trime. To address this, Longacre enlarged the diameter to 14.3 mm for the Type II, but he also completely revised the design, replacing it with an Indian head with a crown of feathers resembling his design on the newly introduced three-dollar gold piece. He also moved the inscription UNITED STATES OF AMERICA to the obverse from the reverse. The reverse laurel wreath was replaced with the cereal wreath Longacre employed on the three-dollar denomination and that was later adopted for the Flying Eagle cent.

Even with these design changes, challenges faced Mint personnel when striking the coins. Because the weight of the denomination remained unchanged, the coins were made slightly thinner. To further complicate matters, the dies often clashed early and frequently during press runs, and many survivors exhibit numerous pronounced clash marks as seen on the present example. Bowers estimates 90% of all 1854 Type II dollars bear such clash marks on one or both sides.

The Philadelphia Mint was the only facility to produce the Type II gold dollar in 1854, striking 783,943 pieces of the new design along with 855,502 of the Type I dollars. Taken as a whole, the Type II design is by far the scarcest of the three basic types. Anywhere from 5,000 to 8,000 remain with maybe a quarter to a third in Mint State. The true rarity of the 1854 Type II gold dollars emerges at the Gem level, where only about 50 examples remain. This is a superb example of the type and will fit perfectly in the finest cabinet.

Superb Gem 1889 Gold Dollar

1889 Gold Dollar. MS-67 (NGC). CAC. This beautiful Superb Gem numbers among the finest known 1889 gold dollars, with only four ranked higher at CAC. The surfaces are absolutely exquisite with satiny luster and lovely rose-gold coloration. Very well struck despite a late die state and fully pristine under inspection. It is difficult for us to imagine a more appealing gold dollar of this date.

The United States Mint's regular issue gold dollar series passed into history in 1889 with a mintage of 1,779 Proofs (nearly all sold to make jewelry; today this is the rarest Proof of the decade) and 28,950 circulation strikes. The denomination had long since fallen out of favor in commerce. Once gold coins disappeared from circulation in the Eastern and Midwestern states early in the Civil War, mintages at the Philadelphia Mint dropped off markedly beginning in 1863 and remained limited through the series' end, with the exception of isolated increases in 1873 and 1874. Only one mintmarked issue was produced after the 1861-D, the 1870-S. As with most of the low mintage issues of 1879 to 1889, 1889 gold dollars were saved in significant quantity by contemporary numismatists and other speculators. For those seeking the utmost in quality and eye appeal for this issue, however, this lot offers a rare bidding opportunity. MS-67 is the grade level at which the otherwise relatively obtainable 1889 develops into a major condition rarity.

QUARTER EAGLES

Condition Census 1832 Quarter Eagle Just One Finer at NGC

1832 Capped Head Left Quarter Eagle. BD-1, the only known dies. Rarity-4. MS-63 (NGC). The offering of an 1832 quarter eagle, a classic rarity, is always a special occasion. This lovely Choice Mint State piece elevates this excitement as one of the very finest known survivors. It is remarkably well preserved for this challenging early gold type. The features pale ivory-gold color with hints of warmer honey-gold at the borders. Intensely lustrous with prooflike reflectivity in the fields. A few wispy lines are noted in the left obverse field, but the surfaces are otherwise untroubled. Sharply struck with original patina in the denticles, it is one of the nicest 1832 quarter eagles that our firm has ever handled. It is the very finest example to appear at auction in almost 15 years and has been held as part of the Zito Collection since 1996. Only one has been graded higher by NGC.

The reduced diameter quarter eagles of 1829 through 1834 make for an elusive type coin in any grade. Mintages range from a low of 3,403 pieces for the 1829 to a high of 4,450 pieces for the 1830, with an average mintage for the six dates of under 3,500 pieces. Factor in attrition over 185 or so years and the number of surviving specimens of any date in the design type becomes tiny. All of the dates, 1829 through 1834, are represented by just one die pairing, BD-1. For the 1832 offered here it is thought that as few as 80 to 100 coins can be accounted for today in all grades. Decades can pass between offerings of a Choice Mint State example, and we expect eager bidders will queue up for this opportunity.

Condition Census Proof 1868 Liberty $2.50
Just One Finer at NGC

1868 Liberty Quarter Eagle. JD-1. Rarity-7-. Proof-64 Cameo (NGC). A gorgeous near-Gem Proof with dramatic orange-peel texture rippling throughout the fields. Blooms of golden-bronze patina surround the design elements, accenting blended powered-blue and apricot color elsewhere. An area of natural planchet texture is noted before Liberty's face, and the surfaces are otherwise untroubled and free of distractions. At Proof-64 Cameo (NGC), this piece ranks among the very finest known and only one coin is ranked higher at NGC in this category. It has been nearly four years since an example of this quality has appeared at auction and this particular piece has been unavailable since July 1997.

The Proof 1868 quarter eagle entered the annals of U.S. numismatics as a rare issue with only 25 pieces produced. Its scarcity was further heightened upon release as unsold Proofs were placed into circulation and others were mishandled by well-meaning collectors. It is generally accepted that no more than 20 examples are extant in all grades, with Garrett and Guth (2008) providing an even more aggressive estimate of just 12 to 15 survivors. Seldom encountered with any degree of Cameo contrast, this dazzling specimen from the Zito Collection is an important find.

1907 Liberty Head Quarter Eagle. MS-65 (PCGS). CAC. OGH.
A remarkably smooth and undisturbed Gem with strong satin luster across both sides. Overall yellow-gold color is accented by hints of rich honey shades throughout. A conditionally rare specimen from this historic issue. This final year Liberty Head quarter eagle would do exceptionally well in a high grade type set.

Theodore Roosevelt's "pet crime" to remake and modernize American coins spelled the end for Christian Gobrecht's Liberty Head design that had been in use on the quarter eagle, half eagle, and eagle for almost 70 years. The quarter eagle's time for redesign came in 1908. The quarter eagle was not as frequently required in daily use as the half eagle, and by the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries, the denomination's production was limited to the Philadelphia Mint. Only 336,294 quarter eagles were coined in 1907. Many were saved, with several thousand in Uncirculated condition, mostly between MS-62 and MS-64. At the Gem level, the issue becomes very scarce.

Silky smooth in appearance, both sides are exceptionally well preserved for both the type and issue. Housed in an Old Green Holder and approved by CAC, it would be hard to overstate the desirability of this piece.

Saved in significant numbers by the contemporary public as the first quarter eagle to display Bela Lyon Pratt's novel incuse design, the 1908 now ranks among the more readily obtainable Indian quarter eagles in all Mint State grades. THREE-DOLLAR GOLD PIECE

Incredible Proof 1863 $3 Rarity
Just Two Finer at NGC and CAC

1863 Three-Dollar Gold Piece. JD-1, the only known dies. Rarity-6+. Proof-64 Cameo (NGC). CAC. This is an miraculous survivor of the low-mintage Proof 1863 $3 that ranks among the finest known. A lovely blend of tangerine and peach coloration mingles across each side, complemented by particularly deep reflectivity on the reverse. It is sharply defined with frosty satin texture across the devices and a desirable orange peel texture in the fields. This beautiful near-Gem has been unavailable to collectors since December 1996. Only two coins rank finer at NGC and CAC. A truly important offering.

The chaos wrought by the Civil War created an environment that was not conducive to either the production or retention of Proof gold coins. With little bullion reaching the Philadelphia Mint while gold specie payments were in suspension in the Eastern States, even business strike mintages were limited from 1862 forward. Accordingly, fewer Proofs were struck as well, as the Mint probably anticipated weak sales as otherwise ardent collectors were distracted by the war. In the specific case of the Proof 1863 $3, only 35 coins were struck and only about half of these escaped melting in the Mint or later loss. This entire mintage was achieved on March 23, and only 14 to 16 coins are believed extant (per John W. Dannreuther, 2018). Any auction offering for a Proof 1863 $3 is a significant event. This new-to-market Proof-64 Cameo (NGC) CAC from the Zito Collection is sure to cause particularly fierce competition among astute bidders.

HALF EAGLES

Historic First Year 1795 Small Eagle $5 Gold Off the Market for Nearly Two Decades

4025

1795 Capped Bust Right Half Eagle. Small Eagle. BD-1. Rarity-5. AU-50 (PCGS). As the first gold coin struck in the fledgling United States Mint, the popularity of the 1795 Small Eagle half eagle knows no bounds. This desirable AU-50 (PCGS) from the Zito Collection is a true prize that has been off the market for nearly two decades. It is a lustrous piece with bright lemon-yellow surfaces and hints of peach and powder-blue shades. Boldly defined with just minor abrasions noted under scrutiny, the eye appeal remains very pleasing for the grade. Mint-made die rust is visible at the obverse borders as well as a natural planchet lamination at 95 in the date which adds to the overall charm.

The first delivery for this issue took place on July 31, 1795, to the extent of 744 pieces. Most numismatic scholars believe that these initial examples were struck from the die pairing that we now know as BD-1. This might seem improbable given that both the obverse and reverse dies were rusted at the time of striking, suggesting that they sat idle for quite some time before being pressed into service. Modern numismatic scholarship suggests that the delay in production of this variety was not due to the Mint's initial use of other dies, but rather the general delay in striking the first gold coins while its employees struggled to post the $10,000 bonds that Congress required before they could handle deposits of this precious metal.

John W. Dannreuther (Early U.S. Gold Coin Varieties: A Study of Die States, 1795-1834, 2006) believes that additional deliveries from this die pairing occurred after July 31, for an estimated mintage of 750 to 1,500 coins for the 1795 BD-1 half eagle. Survivors are elusive, as is the case for all pre-1834 U.S. gold coins, with the author accounting for only 40 to 50 pieces in all grades. This thoroughly appealing coin is likely to find its way into an advanced gold type set.

Acquired in 1997 and Held Privately Since

1799 Capped Bust Right Half Eagle. BD-6. Rarity-5. Small Reverse Stars. MS-63 (NGC). This beautiful Choice Mint State half eagle offers remarkable technical quality and superior eye appeal for both the die variety and overall 1799 issue. The complexion displays blended lemon-yellow and honey gold shades with strong prooflike reflectivity in the fields. It is very sharply struck with unbroken satin luster across the design elements. At MS-63 (NGC), it is certainly one of the very finest known survivors and only two have been graded finer by NCG in this category. Held privately since 1997, it is accompanied by a remarkable suite of 1799-dated silver and gold coins in the Zito collection.

A remarkable nine different reverse dies matched to four obverse dies were required to produce all the various 1799 half eagles, some of which Bass and Dannreuther theorize may have been used as late as 1802. BD-6 is one of the most popular of these varieties and it represents the final use for both the obverse and reverse dies before their eventual failure. The obverse is shared with the BD-4 and BD-5 varieties and is readily identifiable by repunching on the final digit 9 in the date. The reverse of the BD-6 marriage has the upright of the letter E in STATES barely to the right of a space between two clouds. It also shows a distinctive arc pattern of stars of John Smith Gardner's hub. Although relatively obtainable compared to other 1799 half eagles, BD-6 remains an incredible condition rarity and is seldom found in Mint State. Indeed, with only 40 to 50 coins accounted for in all grades, the 1799 BD-6 half eagle is elusive. The vast majority of these are in grades of AU-55 or lower, making this MS-63 (NGC) an incredible treasure.

Superior Mint State 1818 $5 Just Five Finer at CAC

1818 Capped Head Left Half Eagle. BD-2. Rarity-4. STATESOF. MS-62 (PCGS). CAC. OGH. This is a technical and aesthetic jewel with superior eye appeal for the assigned grade. The surfaces display vibrant lemon yellow coloration that glows beneath a light source. Strong luster remains nicely undisturbed on each side and there are no notable abrasions throughout. Certainly among the most desirable pieces available, just 10 coins rank higher at PCGS and only five sit finer at CAC. Newly available for the first time since 1996.

Both dies of this scarce variety are distinctive from those that preceded it, the 1818 BD-1 marriage. The obverse shows the new rendition of Reich's Capped Head design, now thought to have been accomplished by Robert Scot, the longtime Mint engraver who remained after Reich's departure in 1817. His portrait bust of Liberty shows lower relief than Reich's version; Breen also pointed out that the "hair is coarser, [and the] cap [is] more obviously wrinkled." Unlike the 1818 BD-1, which used the scalloped star punch for all 13 of the stars, this obverse uses a non-scalloped star punch for the stars. Aside from an appearance on a dime obverse of 1820, after this year the scalloped star would never be seen again. The reverse is the primary calling card of this variety, with its unusual spacing between STATES and OF that makes the two words look like one. The reverse die that follows this one in the die emission sequence (BD-3) shows so much space between STATES and OF that it has often been described as the result of an overcorrection. All examples of BD-2 are highly prized, and very few can match the quality and eye appeal of this MS-62 (PCGS) CAC from the Zito Collection.

Rare Gem 1915 Indian $5 The Thane B. Price Specimen

1915 Indian Half Eagle. MS-65 (PCGS). This is a magnificent Gem with radiant luster blanketing each side. The surfaces are dusted in traces of original patina that reveal flashes of powder-blue and peach iridescence. A minor mark near the base of the Native American's portrait serves a convenient pedigree marker for tracking this through future cabinets. Long recognized as something significant, this piece was featured as part of the legendary Price Collection sold in 1998 and has been held privately as part of the Zito Collection since 2003. Just nine coins rank higher at PCGS, making this an ideal Registry Set candidate.

Struck during the first full year of World War I, 1915 saw the conflict in Europe escalate and the United States edge closer to involvement with the sinking of the Lusitania. In that year 588,000 half eagles were struck and overall the 1915 is one of the more available issues in lower grades. However, perhaps only 100 examples survive in Gem condition. 4046

1799 Capped Bust Right Eagle. BD-7, Taraszka-19. Rarity-3. Small Obverse Stars. AU-58 (NGC). This lovely AU-58 (NGC) specimen is beautiful and well struck with bold definition across both sides. The complexion gleams with pale ivory-gold shades that glow with every tilt under a light source. The surfaces appear to be at the very cusp of Mint State preservation and remain particularly untouched across the reverse. Acquired for the Zito Collection in August 2003 and now available for the first time in two decades.

Early eagles are perpetually popular among collectors and the 1799 issue is among the most desirable in the Capped Bust Right series. The BD-7 is one of the more available varieties of the 10 known for this date and, with an estimated 250 to 350 examples known in all grades, it is the most frequently encountered of the Small Obverse Stars Guide Book variety. Harry W. Bass, Jr. owned an impressive five examples of this variety in his collection! 4047

1799 Capped Bust Right Eagle. BD-8. Rarity-5. Small Obverse Stars. MS-63 (NGC). This is a visually astounding example with gleaming lemon-yellow patina across intensely lustrous surfaces. The devices are richly frosted and nicely undisturbed, framed by strong prooflike reflectivity in the fields. It sports a superior strike for the issue with full definition to even the border elements. Hairline die cracks connect much of the reverse legend as is typical of these dies, accompanied by evidence of die clashing around the central elements. A minor bagmark is visible near the arrows on the reverse but the surfaces are otherwise untroubled by notable marks. An important offering for specialists and among the finest known survivors, with just three graded higher at NGC.

The 1799 BD-8 is a median rarity among the 10 known die marriages for the 1799 eagle and represents the second of two uses for this obverse die. The most significant diagnostic of this die is the rightward leaning of the digits 17 in the date. The reverse of BD-8 is in its only use, all known examples exhibiting a sharp, jagged die break within the letter C in AMERICA.

Interestingly, all known examples of the 1799 BD-8 eagle were struck between die states of the 1799 BD-7 variety. For unknown reasons the Mint initially replaced the reverse die of the 1799 BD-7 pairing with the reverse die represented here, only to have that die break up and fail quickly, resulting in the BD-7 remarriage. The early break up of this reverse die resulted in relatively few coins being struck, which in turn explains the scarcity of the 1799 BD-8 variety. In fact, according to John W. Dannreuther (2006), only 45 to 55 examples are believed extant in all grades. A significant bidding opportunity for early gold variety specialists, this premium quality MS-63 (NGC) example would also make a fine addition to an advanced cabinet.

1863 Liberty Head Eagle. AU-58 (NGC). This is an historic Condition Census example of the 1863 $10 and it is the very finest offered at auction since 2005, nearly two decades ago. A magnificent specimen with incredible prooflike reflectivity in the fields and exceptional eye appeal for the grade. Hints of yellow-gold iridescence accent the pale sandy-gold surfaces. Minor bagmarks are noted under a glass but traces of actual handling are minimal. Truly superior in all respects; only three coins have been graded finer by NGC. Yearly production of circulation strike eagles at the Philadelphia Mint fell off markedly after Northern banks stopped paying out gold coins at par in exchange for paper currency in late December 1861. While the 1862 was produced in far fewer numbers than the 1861, the effects of this suspension in specie payments on eagle production really came to the fore in 1863, when just 1,248 were struck, one of the lowest mintages for a circulation strike No Motto Liberty eagle. A celebrated rarity that is always in demand among advanced gold enthusiasts, the extant population for the 1863 is thought to be fewer than 50 coins across the grading spectrum. PCGS CoinFacts accounts for just 30 to 45 survivors across all grades. Mint State examples are so rare that most numismatists will never even see one, leaving a Choice AU specimen as effectively the finest one could hope to acquire. Incredible Near-Gem 1872 Liberty Head $10 Tied for Finest Known The Warren Miller Specimen 1872 Liberty Head Eagle. MS-64 (PCGS). OGH. This 1872 $10 is a monumental rarity from the Liberty Head series and is perhaps the most visually spectacular survivor of the issue. At first glance, this coin exhibits the appearance of a Proof striking due to the incredibly intense contrast between the reflective fields and satiny devices. If submitted for certification today, we are confident it would earn a PL or even DMPL designation for this dramatic feature. The fields offer deep mirrors which frame a richly frosted texture across the design elements. The strike is exceptional, with razor sharp denticles and overall bold definition to every element. Inspection reveals considerable traces of die polishing across the obverse, most notably behind the date, around Liberty's lower portrait, and around most of the stars at right. A lovely blend of peach and tangerine color dominates the patina, accented by splashes of warm bronze iridescence near the borders. A minor bagmark above the 2 in the date serves as a pedigree marker, as the surfaces are otherwise smooth and without notable blemishes.

This MS-64 (PCGS) 1872 $10 is tied at the very top of the PCGS Population Report with just one other example and none have been graded finer than MS-63 at NGC. It last appeared at auction in the October 1995 sale of the Warren Miller Collection and was acquired by our consignor a year later in 1996, making this the first time it has been available in over 25 years. It is one of the most special highlights from the Zito Collection and it represents a landmark offering for specialists in Liberty Head gold.

The 1872 is one of the most elusive of all Liberty eagles, a series replete with scarce and rare circulation strike issues. Virtually all Philadelphia Mint issues of the 1870s have very low mintages and few have survived. The reason for the limited production is that gold specie payments, which Eastern banks suspended in December 1861 due to the economic uncertainty of the Civil War, did not resume until gold achieved parity with paper currency on December 17, 1878.

The Philadelphia Mint struck just 1,620 circulation strike eagles in 1872 and survivors are seldom encountered at any level of preservation. PCGS CoinFacts estimates fewer than 50 examples survive in all grades, the vast majority of which are in grades of AU-50 and lower. It is significant that the National Numismatic Collection in the Smithsonian Institution does not include a circulation strike 1872 eagle, nor did the famous collections of Norweb, Garrett, or Eliasberg. The coin we offer here is a rarity par excellence among Liberty eagles, a numismatic legend whose inclusion therein will confirm the importance of any collection.

Pale golden-wheat color is accented by hints of warmer honey-gold patina near the borders. The luster is uniform and intensely matte-like, enhanced by intense die polishing lines in the reverse fields. Sharply struck and amazing to view in-hand, this piece ranks among the very finest known and is tied with only one other MS-68 at NGC. Just a single coin is listed higher at MS-69. Acquired for the Zito Collection in June 1998 and held privately since, this offering represents a monumental opportunity for advanced collectors. It is easily one of the most beautiful examples of this classic Indian eagle design type that we have ever had the privilege of bringing to auction.

The Saint-Gaudens gold eagle is widely considered one of the high-water marks of American numismatic design. President Theodore Roosevelt was a fierce critic of the then-current coin designs and in order to improve them he conspired with Cornish, New Hampshire artist Saint-Gaudens to redesign the entire series of coins. Saint-Gaudens produced several designs including an obverse he originally intended for the cent. When Roosevelt saw this design, he recommended — ordered, really — that the left facing bust of Liberty should wear a war bonnet instead of a laurel wreath. Saint-Gaudens made the change in February 1907 but thought it should be used for the double eagle rather than the cent. Again Roosevelt objected as he preferred a representation of Liberty walking forward for the largest denomination. Instead the bust of Liberty wearing a feathered headdress would go onto the eagle. The reverse design for the eagle was a modified version of the “defiant eagle” Saint-Gaudens had used on Roosevelt’s inaugural medal of 1905.

Plaster models were prepared in Saint-Gaudens’ studios in Cornish and were sent to Philadelphia on June 1 to be converted into working dies. They encountered immediate opposition from Chief Engraver Barber (no fan of non-Mint personnel designing coins), who felt there were design deficiencies, especially the high relief nature of the design and the lack of a proper coin rim. He was focused more on mass production than coin aesthetics and felt “the models now sent are not coin relief,” as he told Mint Superintendent John Landis on June 7. By now, Saint-Gaudens was seriously ill with cancer and did not travel. Instead he worked with the Mint through his assistant, Henry Hering. Hering reworked the models to reduce the relief somewhat and change the date from Roman numerals. The new models were provided to the Mint on June 24 and dies were prepared. By July 19, the dies were ready to strike experimental versions of the new design.

The first coins struck were in high relief despite Barber’s requirements to the contrary, with the portrait of Liberty set within a concave field similar to how a medal might look. The features were also more sculptural with a distinctive soft texture. In addition, because of the high relief, the coins required several strikes to bring up the design. As a result, a “fin” or “slight burr” on the edge caused the coin to not rest flat, especially since the eagle tended to rise up above the border. Now gravely ill, Saint-Gaudens continued to work through the design difficulties along with his staff. Roosevelt realized that the dream of a very high relief eagle was not feasible, and on July 29 he relented and directed the Mint to work on a lower relief version for mass production. Furthermore, in the same letter advised that:

As for the high relief coins, have several hundred struck and allow the collectors of the country to obtain specimens as you suggested, none to be issued until the new issue is out. They should be preserved as the work of a great American artist.

Saint-Gaudens never saw his creation as a coin; he died of cancer on August 3 before any could be struck. Barber prepared a version while the Saint-Gaudens studio prepared their own revisions, coordinating with the artist’s widow, Augusta. Barber’s Rounded Rim version began production on September 13 with the intention of going into circulation. Ultimately neither Saint-Gaudens’ original Wire Rim concept nor Barber’s Rounded Rim version ended up as a circulating coin. The revision from the Saint-Gaudens studio in lower relief and with no triangular periods was adopted and was struck until 1933. In the meantime, to comply with Roosevelt’s July 29 order for several hundred Wire Rim coins, an initial production run of 500 coins took place in late August on the high-pressure medal press, followed by a delivery of 42 coins struck between September and December of that year. The Treasury Department in Washington, DC took delivery of the Wire Rim coins and distributed them to government officials, as well as to some of the biggest coin dealers of the day. Seventy examples remained unsold and were sent back to the Mint in 1915 to be melted down, leaving a final net production of 472 pieces.

In keeping with the Zito Collection’s attention to outstanding quality, the present specimen is among the finest known of this historic issue, the one that most closely represents Saint-Gaudens’ and Roosevelt’s vision for the $10 gold coin.

1907 Indian Eagle. Rounded Rim, Periods. Judd-1903, Pollock-1997. Rarity-5. MS-67 (PCGS). CAC. Here is a truly world-class rarity that will captivate even the most seasoned and sophisticated numismatist. The luster is satiny and vibrant, cartwheeling and glowing at every tilt. Countless traces of swirling die-polish impart a lovely matte-like texture to the fields. This luster is complemented by subtle powder-blue iridescence woven throughout the honey-gold patina, most notably in the left fields on each side. It is tied at the MS-67 level with only two examples at PCGS, including the Bentley Shores specimen from our August 2013 auction and the Pogue coin from our March 2020 sale. Just a single coin ranks higher at MS-67+. The currently offered example is also at the very top of the CAC Population Report, tied only with the aforementioned Pogue coin. Acquired by our consignor in March 2003 and held privately since, this is a numismatic treasure destined for the most accomplished cabinet or Registry Set.

When it was discovered that Augustus Saint-Gaudens' original design for the 1907 Indian eagle caused problems both in production and stacking, Chief Engraver Charles Barber made modifications to the design that included a more standard rim configuration that permitted stacking. Although Saint-Gaudens had succumbed to cancer on August 3, at his studio in Cornish, New Hampshire, a second set of models was made using feedback received from the Mint. Saint-Gaudens' widow, Augusta, sent the revised models to the Mint where Barber reviewed them and stated that "dies made from these models would be a great improvement" over the modified dies Barber had already prepared. When Acting Mint Director Robert Preston reviewed Barber's Rounded Rim coins, he thought they had been struck with the new models from Saint-Gaudens' studio. Consequently, Preston signed off on the Barber version, despite Barber having already pronounced the revised models superior to his own. Production of the Rounded Rim variety for circulation commenced on September 13. Estimates vary as to the precise number struck of the Rounded Rim variety; the most frequently quoted figure is 31,500 pieces based on Treasury correspondence, though some sources cite figures as high as 32,500 coins.

Acting Director Preston was replaced in September by the newly appointed Mint director, Frank Leach. Leach agreed with Barber's assessment of the Rounded Rim version and ordered that it be replaced with the revised lower relief Saint-Gaudens model, which also omitted the triangular periods found on both the Wire Rim and the Rounded Rim varieties. Production ceased and on November 9, he ordered that all but 50 of the Rounded Rim coins be melted down. According to Leach in his 1917 memoirs, Recollections of a Newspaperman, the remaining 50 were then "...given to museums of art and officials and others connected with the work." Interestingly, when Leach offered each of the dozen members of the 1908 Assay Commission an example, only Ohio Congressman William Ashbrook wanted them and proceeded to buy all 12 for face value from the remaining commission members.

The 1907 Rounded Rim eagle remains one of the rarest and most prized issues of the twentieth century and is pursued by numismatist and art collector alike. About ten times as rare as the earlier Wire Rim variety, only about 40 or so of the Rounded Rim coins survived. Of these, the present MS-67 (PCGS) CAC specimen from the Zito Collection is among the very most desirable.

1907 Indian Eagle. No Periods. MS-64 (NGC). CAC. Rarely do examples of this popular issue from the first year of the Indian eagle series possess the superior technical quality and awesome eye appeal of this jewel from the Zito Collection. It certainly approaches Gem preservation at first glance. The vibrant yellow-gold patina is accented by hints of bronze and powder blue iridescence in areas. The surfaces are blanketed in matte-like luster and remain nicely untouched beneath a glass. This piece offers an exceptional combination of expert production quality and pristine preservation and has been off the market since 1996. It will be a significant addition to a high quality gold type set or advanced 20th century gold cabinet

The Philadelphia Mint produced 239,406 examples of the modified No Periods design in 1907. As the first examples of the new eagle to reach the general public, many 1907 No Periods coins were saved for posterity and Mint State pieces are plentiful in an absolute sense. On the other hand, many suffer from soft striking detail in the centers as well as general mishandling. For specialists seeking exceptional coins for their collections, this issue can be challenging at the finest levels of Mint State preservation, as here. This is a significant opportunity to acquire a stellar-quality example of the first circulating coin of the Saint-Gaudens $10 Indian eagle type.

Satiny and free of any significant distractions, this piece has been unavailable to collectors since 1997. The penultimate year for the denomination and for circulating gold of all denominations, the 1932 eagle is the most available of the later issues. A rather staggering mintage of 4,463,000 pieces were struck this year, but most were soon melted and doubtless only a fraction survive today. A considerable number of coins are known in Mint State, though almost all are below Gem. This MS-65 (NGC) example is a scarce and significant offering and represents a standout opportunity for the finest of Indian eagle collections.

DOUBLE EAGLES

Historic Gem 1857-S From the S.S. Central America Shipwreck With Pinch of Gold Dust

1857-S Liberty Head Double Eagle. SSCA# 4460. Variety-20B. Bold S. Gold S.S. Central America Label. With 1.5 Gram Pinch of Gold Dust. MS-65 (PCGS). This historic shipwreck treasure remains one of the finest survivors of this San Francisco double eagle. It displays lovely apricot gold color with areas of powder-blue patina noted at upper obverse edge. Fully struck with virtually pristine surfaces and subtle prooflike reflectivity in the fields, this coin would do justice to the finest gold type set or specialized cabinet of Liberty Head double eagles. Also accompanying this coin is a 1.5 gram pinch of California gold dust, housed in a separate PCGS holder. This lot includes the original Certificate of Authenticity, case and box which are available to the winning bidder upon request to Stack's Bowers Galleries at the close of the auction.

The year 1857 saw two major events occur that had long lasting effects on the United States economy. Throughout the early 1850s, the railroads began a rapid expansion throughout the nation in an effort to unite major commercial centers and eventually the East Coast with the West Coast. In the process, railroad companies embarked on an overly ambitious construction spree which required considerable financing, which banks were eager to provide. It became apparent that many of these railroad companies were built on empty promises and no assets. The bubble in railroad stocks burst in the summer of 1857, beginning a bear market that accelerated rapidly after several major companies failed. On August 24, the dam broke when the Ohio Life Insurance & Trust Company collapsed entirely. That failure precipitated a massive run on the banks that when the dust settled left in ruin thousands of banks, businesses reliant on those banks, and the people reliant on those businesses.

While this financial disaster, the Panic of 1857 unfolded across the nation, another tragedy exacerbated the economic failures and claimed hundreds of lives. On September 3, the S.S. Central America, a side-wheel steamer operated by the United States Mail Steamship Company, left the Panamanian port city of Colón with 101 crew members and 477 passengers headed to New York via Havana. On the 9th, the Central America encountered an Atlantic hurricane off the coast of North Carolina and tried to ride out the storm. Despite valiant efforts by Captain William Herndon and the passengers and crew to keep the ship from sinking, it was to no avail. On the 12th when two small vessels were spotted, Captain Herndon gave the order to abandon ship, deployed lifeboats and tried to rescue as many people as possible, with women and children first. That evening, the Central America slipped beneath the waves with Captain Herndon maintaining his position on the wheel box until the very end. Captain Herndon was celebrated across the nation for his bravery and heroism and his name lives on today in the form of memorials, ships, and the town of Herndon, Virginia.

Also on board the Central America was a staggering 15 tons of gold in the form of assayer ingots, gold dust, and coins worth $8 million at the time, or roughly half a billion dollars in today's accounting. The ship was lost over a particularly deep part of the Atlantic that made recovery an impossibility for generations. In the 1980s a group of treasure hunters and explorers believed they had located where the ship and its gold had come to rest on the ocean bottom. After years of exploration and searching with side-scan sonar and remotely operated vehicles (ROVs), the wreck was located in 1988, and over the next several years, several tons of gold assayer ingots, gold dust, and gold coins were recovered. Over the next several years the disposition of the treasure was litigated until it was determined that the discovery team was entitled to 92% of the recovered treasure.

Among the recovered items were approximately 5,400 freshly struck 1857-S double eagles. Typically, gold coins struck at the San Francisco Mint had entered the region's commercial channels and remained there. Before the recovery of the Central America coins, the best Type I double eagles struck at the San Francisco Mint would be in the AU range. Thanks to the recovery of this treasure ship and others, numismatists can now acquire not only a Mint State example, but even a Gem such as this. The majority of the double eagles recovered from the S.S. Central America are at the Choice Mint State level of preservation. Above those grades the numbers thin out and Gems are much more difficult to find. Due to careful conservation under the eye of scientist and discoverer Bob Evans, the surfaces of these coins are often as sparkling as the day they left the San Francisco Mint. This Gem from the Zito Collection will attract considerable attention from double eagle specialists, as well as enthusiasts of Gold Rush history and shipwreck lore.

Gold in California!

The Gold Rush started in January 1848 when John Marshall discovered a gleaming flake in the tail race of a sawmill at Sutter's Fort near Sacramento. Soon, other flakes and nuggets were found, tests were made at Sutter's Fort, and gold was positively identified. The news could not be contained, it soon reached San Francisco, and by late spring the Gold Rush was on!

In the days before telegraph and other modern connections, the news did not reach the East until late summer, and even then it was viewed as a hoax or fantasy by many. Finally, in December 1848 an emissary sent from California reached Washington, D.C. with a small container of gold. This was shown to President James Knox Polk and others, and then sent to the Mint. The excitement knew no limits!

In 1849 tens of thousands of people headed west to tap this golden bonanza. By late spring and early summer 1849 the banks of the American River in and around Sutter's Mill were crowded with prospectors, as were many tributaries. Tales of fortune abounded and still more people came. San Francisco, earlier called Yerba Buena, changed from a sleepy village to a dynamic town.

As the years passed, assayers, bankers, and other commercial interests were established in San Francisco, Sacramento and other towns, with gold remaining a focal point of interest. Miners, banks and others would receive gold then take it to an assayer who would melt it, cast it into bars or ingots, and then test it for its purity. At regular intervals ingots and coins made from California gold, including at the San Francisco Mint (which opened for business in late March 1854), were packed in wooden cases and shipped to the East.

The Treasure Ship S.S. Central America

One day in late August 1857, well over $1.6 million (at the $20.67 per ounce value at the time) in golden ingots and coins was packed aboard the steamer S.S. Sonora, which headed south along the Pacific coast, docking at Panama City. At that point the passengers and treasure were put aboard the 48-mile long Panama Railroad, and carried to the port of Aspinwall on the Atlantic side. Soon, the S.S. Central America arrived in port, and the passengers and gold went aboard, to head north to New York City.

All was serene -- with sunny skies and pleasant temperatures. A stop was made in Havana, but a cholera epidemic was raging, and only a few went ashore. Out of Havana the ship steamed forward, but not long afterward, storm clouds arose, and the wind increased. No doubt this was a squall and would soon pass. However, the wind intensified, the waves rose, and by Thursday, September 10, the seas were very high and the S.S. Central America was almost helpless. Water was taken aboard, flooding the hold and extinguishing the fires for the steam boiler, placing the vessel at the mercy of the elements.

On Saturday morning, September 12th, two sailing ships, the bark Ellen and the brig Marine, were nearby, and with heroic effort the women and children were rowed to safety. In the early evening, Captain William Herndon fired rockets of distress and flew the Stars and Stripes upside down, a sign of impending disaster. At about 8 o'clock in the evening, with Herndon standing on the cover of one of the side wheels, the ship slipped below the waves, taking with it hundreds of people. Many perished, but some clung to bits of driftwood and debris, to be rescued later by passing ships. The S.S. Central America and its gold went to a watery grave 7,200 feet below the surface.

The news was sensational at the time, an unprecedented marine disaster of an American mail steamer.

Discovery of the Treasure

In the 1980s, Tommy Thompson, Bob Evans and Barry Schatz discussed the long lost S.S. Central America, and immersed themselves in trying to determine where the ship may have been during the hurricane. Eventually they plotted a tract of ocean involving hundreds of square miles off the coast of southern Virginia. With sophisticated equipment aboard their ship, the Arctic Discoverer, the treasure seekers began a determined search, using underwater cameras and other equipment to scan the bottom.

Finally, in September 1986, what looked like the remains of a steamer sidewheel cover was seen on the ocean floor, with some scattered coal nearby. In order to lay claim to the treasure and protect rights, a lump of coal was retrieved and taken to a court in Virginia and a claim registered. The area was explored by the remote-controlled vehicle Nemo and, in time, the ship's bell was recovered, making identification positive.

News of the discovery spread, resulting in multiple claims by those who stated they had a connection to the long ago insurance companies who covered the cargo, or had other reason to want to share the treasure. These cases were pressed vigorously, causing the matter to drag through the courts for a number of years. Finally, in the late 1990s, the matter was resolved, and the treasure hunters, calling themselves the Columbus-America Discovery Group, were awarded about 92.5% of what they found. A group of investors was formed and purchased the entire treasure intact. A nice group of ingots and coins was selected for auction by Christie's, after which the California Gold Marketing Group proceeded to sell the other items on a fixed price basis.

In 2014, explorers returned to the site of the S.S. Central America at the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean. At that time additional coins and ingots were recovered and were brought to market.

1860 Liberty Head Double Eagle. MS-64 (NGC). CAC. This beautiful 1860 double eagle is a visually stunning example even at arm's length. Dominant golden-wheat shades display a hint of olive gold on the reverse. Satiny and matte-like throughout, the overall appearance certainly suggests full Gem quality at first glance. A thin mark above the eagle's head is noted for accuracy, though the surfaces remain otherwise untroubled. Among the finest known survivors, just a single coin ranks finer at NGC and only one is listed higher at CAC. This is a true connoisseur's coin that belongs in the finest gold type set or specialized Liberty double eagle collection. Acquired in July 1997 and now available to a new generation of collectors.

The Philadelphia Mint struck 577,670 circulation strike double eagles in 1860, of which approximately 2,000 to 3,000 coins are thought to survive. The vast majority are circulated and concentrated in the VF to AU range. Prior to the recovery of the S.S. Republic shipwreck, numismatic scholars accounted for only 40 to 60 Mint State examples. That shipwreck treasure contributed 82 additional examples to the extant population, 43 of which are Mint State. To the best of our knowledge, the S.S. Republic find represents the only hoard of 1860 double eagles to have entered the numismatic market. With an estimated population of no more than 100 or so coins, the 1860 remains rare in Mint State. Most such pieces are in lower grades, MS-60 to MS-62, and a superior near-Gem example like the Zito specimen is an important treasure.

Superior Gem 1904 Liberty $20 Off the Market Since October 1995

1904 Liberty Head Double Eagle. MS-65 (NGC). CAC. This is a beautiful premium Gem that would do justice to the finest type or date set. Dazzling golden-wheat hues are complemented by a dusting of original patina. The surfaces remain smooth and nicely untroubled, with particularly radiant luster on the reverse. Liberty's portrait is impressively sharp and approval by CAC confirms the superior quality.

The 1904 is far and away the most common Liberty Head double eagle of any type in today's market. The mintage of 6,256,699 circulation strikes is the highest in the series and, even more importantly, most of these coins appear to have been used in international commerce. Any coins that remained within the borders of the United States would have been melted by the late 1930s, if not earlier, and the 1904 would be much scarcer in numismatic and investment circles. Gold coins did not circulate within the United States during the early 20th century except for in isolated areas of the West, and the output from the San Francisco Mint easily met that need.

Given the multitude of 1904 double eagles extant, the vast majority of the mintage was clearly exported to England, France and other countries, where the coins remained until repatriated beginning in the mid to late 20th century. This issue is obtainable with ease in grades up to and including MS-64, though finer examples can only be described as scarce. At the present MS-65 (NGC) CAC grade level, however, the conditionally rare nature of both the issue and the type come readily to the fore. Simply a delightful coin, we anticipate strong bidder competition for this fresh offering.

Liberty Head double eagles were struck at the Denver Mint in the years 1906 and 1907 only, with 620,250 examples coined

The Mint State population is estimated at the mid four-figure level, which means that many collectors will have the opportunity to acquire an attractive example of this historic issue. 1907 Liberty Head Double Eagle. MS-64 (NGC). CAC. A superior CAC-approved example with rich peach and apricot toning and strong satiny luster throughout. Well struck and particular smooth on the reverse, this is an outstanding Choice type candidate from the final year of Liberty Head double eagle production in the Philadelphia Mint.

With a few design changes (all on the reverse) the Liberty Head double eagle was minted from 1850 uninterrupted until 1907. The denomination was born from the need to process gold being mined from the California Gold Rush, it witnessed the bloody Civil War, the Industrial Age, and the turbulence of the financial panics of 1857, 1873, and 1893 and was stolen from banks by the likes of Jesse James and Billy the Kid. It is a reminder of the epic growth of the United States, and when placed in this historical context the idea of collecting Liberty Head double eagles is quite intriguing. The series is ripe with rarities and scarce dates, and makes for an exciting numismatic challenge. The present specimen from the Zito Collection offers an exceptional opportunity.

Iconic 1907 High-Relief Saint-Gaudens $20

First Appearance in 26 Years

4074

MCMVII (1907) Saint-Gaudens Double Eagle. High Relief. Wire Rim. MS-63 (PCGS). OGH. A thoroughly premium quality example of this classic 20th century gold issue. A vibrant blend of lemon-yellow and honey-gold tones glow beneath a light source. A captivating matte-like texture blankets the fields courtesy of swirling die polish that becomes visible with the aid of a glass. Fully struck and worthy of the strongest bids, this piece is available to collectors for the first time since October 1996.

The 1907 High Relief Saint-Gaudens double eagle is widely considered to be the high water mark in American numismatic artistry. Never a man to shrink from a challenge or get bogged down in bureaucratic red tape, President Theodore Roosevelt engaged sculptor Augustus Saint-Gaudens to replace what Roosevelt referred to as the “atrocious hideousness” of the coin designs then in use. He and Saint-Gaudens bypassed Chief Engraver Charles E. Barber, numerous committees, and Congress to create some of the most inspired coin designs in America’s history. The obverse was modeled after Saint-Gaudens’ Winged Nike figure on the General William Tecumseh Sherman Memorial in New York City’s Central Park and is paired with an elegant, if not entirely realistic rendition of a flying eagle on the reverse.

In order to bring up the three dimensional nature of the design, each coin required at a minimum three to five strikes as well as inspection after each impression. As a result, only 12,367 coins were struck for circulation in the High Relief format. Of those, at least two-thirds are of the Wire Rim variety. The Wire Rim was actually not intended as part of the overall design but rather was an artifact of the striking process. During striking, if the collar was not sufficiently tightened, metal would be pushed to where the coin’s edge and collar meet. Even the slightest misalignment of the obverse and reverse dies would force metal into the gap, forming the fin (as the Mint referred to this feature). A second collar was employed that largely eliminated the Wire Rim, but the slow nature of the minting process eventually necessitated a reworking of the entire design to reduce the relief.

Fortunately for numismatists today, the MCMVII was a sensation when examples were first released into circulation in December 1907. Bank tellers and others saved all they could find, and soon they sold at a premium, $25 and then $30. Years later, as the passion faded, many were turned in and spent, including in the 1930s when the government called in all gold coins. We estimate that perhaps 6,000 are known, or about half the mintage. Over a long period of years various surveys in the numismatic field have ranked this as the most beautiful of all circulating coinage designs, and high quality survivors such as this never fail to attract attention when they appear at auction.

1907 Saint-Gaudens Double Eagle. Arabic Numerals. MS-64 (NGC). CAC. Here is a gorgeous CAC-approved Mint State representative of the brief and popular No Motto Saint-Gaudens double eagle design type of 1907 to 1908. Matte-like texture with powder blue and golden-wheat color. Satiny and well struck, it is very close to a full Gem designation. Off the market since 1996, it is sure to please the discerning double eagle collector or 20th century gold enthusiast.

The popular 1907 Saint-Gaudens double eagle is the first of only two Philadelphia Mint issues of the brief Arabic Numerals, No Motto design type. It is far scarcer than the 1908 No Motto, especially in the finer Mint State grades.

Theodore Roosevelt, Augustus Saint-Gaudens and the MCMVII $20

Circa 1904 President Theodore Roosevelt admired the artistry of ancient Greek coins, contemplated what he felt was the insipid, bland, appearance of current gold and silver, and took it upon himself to make changes. He contacted Augustus Saint-Gaudens, America's most famous sculptor, who was in residence at his magnificent home and studio in Cornish, New Hampshire, now known as the Saint-Gaudens National Historic Site (and well worth visiting when it is open in the summer months). Without the advice or consent of the Treasury Department or the Mint, traditionally where new designs originated, Roosevelt perfected an arrangement with the artist to redesign all American coins from the cent through the double eagle.

Saint-Gaudens was given free license to come up with ideas. For the obverse design Saint-Gaudens selected a standing figure known as Fame and originally created as part of the Sherman Victory monument erected earlier in the decade at the Grand Army Plaza at the southeast corner of Central Park, New York City. Some modifications were made, but the goddess remains essentially the same. In the background is a depiction of the United States Capitol building and resplendent rays of the sun.

In correspondence with Roosevelt, Saint-Gaudens, hardly a numismatist in the collecting sense but quite familiar with numismatic art, especially medals, stated that by all odds the best design he had ever seen on a United States coin was on the Flying Eagle cent of 1857. Used on the reverse of the double eagle was Saint-Gaudens' own version of this, different in appearance, but similar in concept. As it turned out, the artist, stricken with cancer, died on August 3, 1907, before his commission was completed. However, by that time, the models were mostly done for the Indian Head $10 and MCMVII $20. With some modifications by his assistant, Henry Hering, the $10 pieces were released in the autumn of the year, followed in December by the MCMVII $20. In the meantime, the production of the double eagle represented quite a struggle. Charles E. Barber, chief engraver at the Mint, resisted the efforts of Saint-Gaudens. Barber and the sculptor were scarcely friends, and earlier Saint-Gaudens had called Barber's work "wretched." Barber remonstrated that the idea of striking coins in high relief would not be compatible with producing coins on high-speed presses, but that such pieces would need to be made by hand. At one point, President Roosevelt, exasperated with Barber, stated that even if only one coin per day could be made, that would be it. Eventually a compromise of sorts resulted in somewhat over 11,000 pieces being produced on a medal press, with three blows required for each coin. After this Barber took charge, flattened the design, removed the Roman numerals, and made some other changes creating the motif used afterwards, through and including 1933.

When the double eagles were released into circulation in December 1907, they were widely publicized, highly acclaimed, and a mad scramble ensued to acquire them. All of this was very fortunate for the numismatic community, for probably somewhere around 5,000 to 6,000 or so survive today, most in varying degrees of Mint State, although relatively few in Gem preservation.

Top Pop 1913-S Saint-Gaudens $20 Off the Market Since 1996

1913-S Saint-Gaudens Double Eagle. MS-65 (NGC). A beautiful Gem example that has been unavailable to collectors since 1996. This piece showcases pleasing apricot hues with a dusting of original patina across both sides. The surfaces are smooth and exhibit a lovely matte-like texture in the fields. A small mint-made planchet flaw on the sun below IN of IN GOD WE TRUST serves as a convenient pedigree marker. This double eagle sits at the very top of the NGC Census and none have been graded finer. Produced to the extent of just 34,000 pieces, the 1913-S is one of the most eagerly sought Saint-Gaudens double eagles in all Mint State grades. It is also among the scarcer issues of the type, ranking 21st of 53 issues in the series. About 3,000 Uncirculated examples are thought to survive for today's collectors, but the vast majority are in grades of MS-63 and lower. At the Gem level, this becomes a significant rarity with fewer than 40 coins known. The present MS-65 (NGC) is among the very finest survivors and is surely destined for another legendary collection of world-class rarities.

1922 Saint-Gaudens Double Eagle. MS-63 (NGC). Lustrous satin surfaces are sharply struck and expectably smooth for the assigned grade. Apricot and honey-gold shades are accompanied by scattered hints of patina that confirm the originality.

Many of the 1,375,500 double eagles that the Philadelphia Mint produced in 1922 were exported during the 1920s. These coins remained as part of foreign bank reserves until after World War Two, when they began to make their way back to the United States. A new-to-market offering for the astute double eagle enthusiast.

1924 Saint-Gaudens Double Eagle. MS-67 (NGC). This Superb Gem is a true miracle of survival and a gorgeous representative of the iconic Saint-Gaudens type. The surfaces exhibit lovely golden wheat hues with hints of satiny reflectivity in the fields. A matte-like texture enhances the overall luster and the strike is razor sharp throughout. Simply outstanding quality and eye appeal for this popular issue that usually comes with significant marks and abrasions. Just four coins have been graded finer by NGC, emphasizing the true significance of this MS-67 (NGC) specimen from the Zito Collection.

The 1924 is one of several post-1916 issues in the Saint-Gaudens double eagle series that was exported in quantity. This is fortunate for today's collectors since the coins that were shipped overseas escaped the fate of the gold coins that remained in federal vaults — mass destruction through melting in 1937. Widely represented in repatriations beginning in the mid to late 20th century, the 1924 has become one of the most plentiful Saint-Gaudens double eagles. While 4,323,500 were struck, only about 5% survive today in Gem condition or finer. We caution bidders that at the Superb Gem level of the present piece, this issue develops into a significant condition rarity. A remarkable bidding opportunity that will appeal to advanced collectors.

COMMEMORATIVE GOLD COINS

Choice 1915-S Panama-Pacific $50 Round Only 483 Coins Distributed

1915-S Panama-Pacific Exposition $50. Round. MS-64 (NGC). CAC. This is a beautiful Choice survivor of this legendary commemorative issue. Warm shades of peach and honey-gold color glow with intensity under a light. The texture is matte-like and exceptionally smooth for such a large size gold type, most survivors of which show noticeable friction in and around the central obverse. This is a premium quality example for both the issue and the assigned grade. It is free of notable blemishes and approaching Gem quality in many respects.

The rare and impressive Panama-Pacific $50 commemoratives are featured in the popular reference 100 Greatest U.S. Coins by Jeff Garrett and Ron Guth, where they are ranked #29 in the fifth (2019) edition. The obverse of this type depicts Liberty as Athena with her helmet pitched up upon her head in the fashion of the ancient Greeks, surrounded by the legend UNITED STATES OF AMERICA above, and the denomination FIFTY DOLLARS below. The motto IN GOD WE TRUST is located in the upper left field. For the reverse the designer, Robert Aitken, featured a large owl facing nearly forward, perched on a thick pine branch, with large pine cones below and in the background. The motto

E PLURIBUS UNUM is tucked into the field behind the owl. Matching the obverse is a round band at the perimeter which notes the name and place of the Exposition. On the similar octagonal $50 pieces (but not the round), an extra border with dolphins symbolize the continuous waterway created by the opening of the Panama Canal.

The round version of the Panama-Pacific Exposition $50s did not sell as well as the octagonal style at the time of issue in 1915, hence a greater percentage of this type was returned to the Mint for melting. Of the 1,500 round examples struck, only 483 were distributed, making it the rarest collectible U.S. Mint commemorative coin. A good number of those sold, perhaps the majority, went into non-numismatic hands and as a result, they are occasionally seen with quite a bit of handling or other surface problems. Few remain in such exceptional preservation as the present piece, making it an opportunity for collectors who seek the finest treasures.

1915-S Panama-Pacific Exposition $50. Octagonal. MS-64 (NGC). Expertly produced with sharply rendered design elements, both sides are equally attractive and far superior to what is typically offered for this scarce and conditionally challenging classic commemorative type. The surfaces exhibit vibrant lemon-yellow color with richer honey-gold toning at the borders. Fully lustrous with a delightful satin to softly frosted texture, courtesy of intense swirling die polishing visible under glass. Acquired on New Year's Eve in 1997 and available for the first time in 25 years.

In San Francisco, a one square mile section of the Marina District was selected and elaborate exhibit buildings were built using impermanent materials. Only one structure, the Palace of Fine Arts, still stands in its original location (two other structures were dismantled and erected elsewhere). Exhibits were set up from around the world that were seen by nearly 19 million visitors over the course of the exposition. Souvenirs were aplenty, including the five commemorative coins, medals, photographs, books, postcards, and even silent movies. One portion of the exposition highlighted the California Gold Rush and sold gilt brass medals in imitation of the famous United States Assay Office of Gold $50 slugs. The two $50 commemorative coins were inspired by similar coins, also called slugs, that were issued during the Gold Rush. The initial Congressional authorization called for 1,500 examples of each format to be struck, along with several additional pieces reserved for assay purposes.

Designed by noted San Francisco sculptor Robert Ingersoll Aitken, the motifs were selected to emphasize the triumph and economic power of California. The obverse on both types bears a bust of Athena wearing a Corinthian helmet and with part of a round shield at her shoulder inscribed with the date of issue, MCMXV. Aitken selected Athena to represent skill, agriculture, horticulture, cultivation, spinning/weaving, and wisdom. The reverse bears a representation of Athena's owl perched upon a branch from what is likely a Coulter Pine (Pinus coulteri), a tree found along California's coast and known for its huge pine cones. On the octagonal pieces, swimming dolphins were placed surrounding the central design. The mintmark S appears to the right of the pine cone on the owl's right side. The Panama-Pacific commemorative coins hold the distinction of being not only the first commemorative coin struck at a branch mint, but also the first to employ the motto, In God We Trust.

In the end, 645 of the Octagonal $50 gold pieces sold and the rest were sent back to the Mint to be melted. While they did not circulate, the octagonal pieces were particularly prone to mishandling due to their size and the softness of the metal which meant they could be easily dinged and scratched. Today, the few extant examples, while generally Mint State, are mostly at the MS-63 level and below. Here is an outstanding near-Gem specimen of this unique commemorative design that celebrates one of the engineering marvels of the world as well as the heroic resurrection of a great Pacific Coast city.

1922 Grant Memorial Gold Dollar. Star. MS-67 (ICG). A delightful Superb Gem with blended powder-blue and honey-gold shades. The fields are bathed in an intense matte-like luster courtesy of swirling die polish visible beneath a glass. Strong eye appeal and virtually no trace of handling.

In 1921, the Ulysses S. Grant Centenary Memorial Association was established to raise funds for monuments, civic buildings and roads, as well as celebratory activities, including through the sales of commemorative silver half dollars and gold dollars. Approved by Congress in February 1922, Laura Gardin Fraser, who also designed the 1921 Alabama half dollar was tapped to design the coins. The Grant design, shared across both denominations, exhibits a bust of Grant on the obverse and a representation of his childhood home surrounded in trees in Ohio. The Association placed a small star on the obverse of a select number of the coins to help generate interest, and by extension increase sales. Originally intended to be used only on the gold dollar, a small number of half dollars were also struck with the star. The gold dollar was a success and the total authorized mintage of 10,000 coins — 5,000 of each with and without the star — were all sold out at the retail price of $3 per coin. Despite the revenue generated, none of the planned monuments were built, though the festivities did go on as planned. Thanks to their small size and careful preservation, most examples today are in Choice and Gem Mint State. Superb Gem Mint State specimens are scarce, but well worth seeking out as near perfect demonstrations of the engraver's art in miniature.

Stunning Gem Proof 1886 Gold Dollar Rare JD-2 Die Pairing

1886 Gold Dollar. JD-2. Rarity-6-. Low Date. Proof-66 Cameo (NGC). This is a truly mesmerizing piece displaying pale yellow-gold color at the centers and fiery orange toning at the borders. It is incredibly well struck with lovely reflectivity in the fields and an unbroken frosty texture on the devices. Dusted in original patina, this piece is being presented as part of a nicely matched 1886 gold Proof set offered individually in the following lots. It ranks among the very finest known and only three coins are graded higher at NGC.

Toward the end of gold dollar production, circulation strike mintages for the denomination were desultory at best, intended primarily to prevent these dates from becoming Proof-only issues. On the other hand, Proof gold dollar production tipped up beginning in 1884 and reached a total of 1,016 specimens in 1886 to help fill orders from jewelers. While many examples were carefully preserved by numismatists, quite a few were mishandled by the public, along with those that were damaged in jewelry. Despite the comparatively healthy production figures, probably little more than 10% remain in numismatic channels today. Two distinct die pairings were used to strike this mintage and the present JD-2 is the rarer of the two, with only 30 to 50 known in all grades.

Peach and tangerine shades are enhanced by a desirable orange-peel texture in the fields. Sharply defined with a rich satiny texture on the devices and well mirrored fields. A truly ideal representative of this issue with superior surface quality and original patina throughout. A Proof-67 Cameo has not been offered at auction in at least two decades, and this particular example has been locked up in the Zito Collection since 1998. A truly irresistible opportunity for the advanced collector, this quarter eagle is presented as part of a nicely matched five-piece 1886 gold Proof set offered in the adjacent lots.

Just 88 Proof quarter eagles were struck in 1886 and only about half survive for today's collectors. PCGS CoinFacts and John Dannreuther agree on a range of just 35 to 45 known. Dannreuther points out that 41 pieces were sold in 1888 as part of complete Proof sets, while the balance were acquired individually from the Philadelphia Mint by collectors at the time. Most survivors are in grades of Proof-65 and lower, making the Proof-67 Cameo (NGC) an astounding rarity.

1886 Three-Dollar Gold Piece. JD-1. Rarity-4. Proof-66 Cameo (NGC). CAC. This handsome and fully original Gem Proof 1886 $3 represents the finest auction offering in a decade. Powder-blue iridescence complements the overall warm apricot toning. Sharply struck with orange-peel texture in the fields and a sharp contrast against the satiny devices. Virtually untouched and undoubtedly superior for the assigned grade; just one has been graded finer by NGC and none rank higher at CAC. This jewel is being presented as part of a nicely matched five-piece 1886 gold proof set featured in the adjacent lots.

By 1886 the three-dollar gold series was rapidly approaching its end, which officially came in the Coinage Act of September 26, 1890. Although this act is dated late in 1890, the final three-dollar gold pieces were produced in 1889. Yearly circulation strike mintages had been limited throughout the entire series, in fact, and especially so after the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861. By the 1880s the Philadelphia Mint was delivering no more than 6,000 circulation strikes yearly, in most cases no more than 1,000 coins.

Beginning in 1884, on the other hand, Proof mintages increased in response to heightened demand from contemporary numismatists. The 1886 was produced to the extent of 142 Proofs, surpassed by the mintages of only the Proof 1887 and Proof 1888. Most of the Proofs struck in 1886 were distributed and subsequently preserved. Numismatic experts are generally in agreement on the number of coins extant, Bowers and Winter providing a figure in the range of 80 to 100 coins, seconded by Dannreuther (2018), with PCGS CoinFacts offering a similar range of 75 to 90 survivors. The present Proof-66 Cameo (NGC) CAC is among the very finest known and is an important bidding opportunity for advanced gold type or date collectors.

1886 Liberty Head Half Eagle. JD-1. Rarity-6-. Proof-67 Cameo (NGC). A virtually pristine Superb Gem that is the very finest specimen to appear at auction in nearly two decades. The surfaces are dominated by a rich blend of golden-wheat, powder blue, and honey-gold shades that deliver magnificent eye appeal. Mirrored fields exhibit a desirable orange-peel texture upon close inspection, contrasting sharply with the frosted design elements. Wonderfully original and very sharply struck, this is sure to please even the most discerning Proof gold specialist. It is tied at the very top of the NGC Census in this category and none have been graded finer by NGC or PCGS in any category. In virtually every respect, this piece is impossible to improve upon and represents a significant opportunity. Remarkably, it is being presented as part of a nicely matched five-piece 1886 gold Proof set featured in the adjacent lots.

The original mintage of this rare Proof 1886 half eagle is just 72 pieces, typical of an era with mintages that remained under 100 pieces until 1896. From that beginning there are no more than 30 today, if indeed that many, given the often seen duplication within the certification numbers. What is clear from auction data is that very few of these cross the auction block in any condition, and their rarity is self evident. Most known specimens top out at the Proof-65 level, and even fewer exhibit any appreciable Cameo contrast. The present Proof-67 Cameo (NGC) is a true prize for the advanced connoisseur of this series or type specialist.

1886 Liberty Head Eagle. JD-1. Rarity-6. Proof-67 Cameo (NGC). This incredible 1886 $10 is a world-class rarity that would be the ultimate treasure in an advanced collection. It is being presented as part of a nicely matched five-piece 1886 gold Proof set featured in the adjacent lots. This specimen is perhaps the ideal representative of the issue, offering a superior blend of originality, production quality, and pristine condition. The complexion features overall apricot and peach shades with hints of powder-blue revealed by the patina in certain lighting. Satiny and fully struck, the devices offer marked contrast to mirrored and reflective fields. The distinct “orange peel” texture that characterizes fully original Proof Liberty gold coins from the late 19th century is also readily evident in the fields, particularly when examined with a loupe.

It is certainly one of the very finest known examples and it ranks as the sole finest graded by PCGS or NGC in the Cameo category. NGC has graded just one other Proof-67 in the Deep Cameo category, while PCGS has not graded any examples higher than Proof-66+ in any category. This magnificent jewel was acquired in February 1998 and has been held privately as part of the Zito Collection ever since. Now available for the first time in nearly 25 years, this offering represents a monumental opportunity for the advanced specialist.

The 1886 is one in a long line up of classic rarities in the Proof Liberty eagle series. Only 60 pieces were produced, a small mintage that suffered a nearly immediate reduction through the destruction of unsold examples in the Mint. Since the number of coins actually sold was not recorded, we have no way of knowing exactly how many specimens were actually distributed to contemporary collectors. Based on 15 to 20 coins believed extant, it seems likely that no more than half of the Proofs actually left the Mint. Elusive in all grades, and particularly above the Proof-64 level, the 1886 Proof eagle is typically encountered only when very important numismatic cabinets are offered at auction. Such is the case with the present Zito Collection. Strong bids are encouraged for the present lot as once this piece finds its way into another collection, it may be many decades before another Proof 1886 eagle of this quality becomes available.

Nicely Matched Gem 1909 Five-Piece Proof Set Most with CAC Approval

1909 Five-Piece Proof Set (NGC). The Proof Sets of 1909 are an historic issue, marked by the first appearance of Victor David Brenner's Lincoln design on the cent. Though intensely sought-after upon their release, many of the coins were spent or otherwise mishandled through the tough times of World War I and the Great Depression, greatly reducing the number of survivors. Nicely matched in older-style NGC holders and off the market since 1995, this five-piece set represents an important opportunity. The coins are individually certified and most have CAC approval, emphasizing the superior quality.

1909 Lincoln Cent. Proof-65 RD (NGC). A stunning Matte Proof Gem with virtually flawless surfaces and intense luster throughout. The obverse features a blend of sandy-gold and tangerine-orange hues, while the reverse is vibrantly toned in honey-gold and ivory color. Lovely to examine in-hand.

1909 Liberty Head Nickel. Proof-66 (NGC). CAC. A dusting of original golden patina is illuminated by intense underlying luster across this Gem Proof. Sharply defined with a satin texture on the devices and a watery reflectivity in the fields.

1909 Barber Dime. Proof-66 (NGC). CAC. A lovely little jewel with incredible reflectivity in the fields and rich, frosty luster on the devices. The Platinum-white brilliance at the centers is framed by rich bands of golden-bronze and sapphire-blue at the borders. Exceptional in every respect and certainly approaching a full Cameo designation.

1909 Barber Quarter. Proof-66 (NGC). CAC. A dazzling Gem Proof with intense luster. Subtle hints of magenta, bronze and sapphire toning accent the borders while the centers show a snowy-white brilliance. Sharply defined with a deep reflectivity in the fields that is very close to a full Came designation.

1909 Barber Half Dollar. Proof-66 (NGC). CAC. Mirrored reflectivity in the fields frames satiny and undisturbed devices on this gorgeous Proof. The platinum-white coloration is complemented by swaths of violet and sapphire-blue toning at the borders.

Terms & Conditions – Showcase and Collectors Choice Auctions

1. Auction Basics. This is a public auction sale ("Auction Sale") conducted by bonded auctioneers, Stack's Bowers Galleries or Stack's Bowers and Ponterio (hereinafter referred to as "Auctioneer" and at times as "Stack's Bowers"). Bidding in this Auction Sale constitutes acceptance by you ("Bidder") of all the Terms of Sale stated herein. Bidders may include consignors who may bid and purchase lots in the Auction Sale consigned by the consignor or by other consignors pursuant to their consignment agreement with Stack's Bowers ("Consignor" or "Consignors"). A Consignor that bids on their own lots in the Auction Sale may pay a different fee than the Buyer's Premium charged to all other Buyers. Stack's Bowers reserves the right to include in any auction sale its own material as well as material from affiliated or related companies, principals, officers or employees. Stack's Bowers may have direct or indirect interests in any of the lots in the auction and may collect commissions. THE TWO PRECEDING SENTENCES SHALL BE DEEMED A PART OF THE DESCRIPTION OF ALL LOTS CONTAINED IN THE CATALOG. Where the Consignor has repurchased a lot and the lot is either returned to the Consignor or otherwise dealt with or disposed of in accordance with the Consignor's direction, or pursuant to contractual agreement, Stack's Bowers reserves the right to so note in the prices realized or to omit a price from the prices realized. Stack's Bowers and its affiliates may bid for their own account at any auction. Stack's Bowers and its affiliates may have information about any lot that is not known publicly, and Stack's Bowers and its affiliates reserves the right to use such information, in a manner determined solely by them and for their benefit, without disclosing such information in the catalog, catalog description or at the auction. Bidder acknowledges and agrees that Stack's Bowers and its affiliates are not required to pay a Buyer's Premium, or other charges that other Bidders may be required to pay and may have access to information concerning the lots that is not otherwise available to the public. Any claimed conflict of interest or claimed competitive advantage resulting therefrom is expressly waived by all participants in the Auction Sale. Lots may carry a reserve ("Reserve"). A Reserve is a price or bid below which the Auctioneer will not sell an item or will repurchase on behalf of the Consignor or for Stack's Bowers. Reserves may be confidential and not disclosed. The Buyer is the Bidder who makes the highest bid accepted by the Auctioneer, and includes the principal of any Bidder acting as an agent.

2. Descriptions and Grading. Bidder acknowledges that grading of most coins, currency and cryptocurrency tokens in this Auction has been determined by independent grading services, and those that are not may be graded by Stack's Bowers. Grading of rare coins, currency and crypto tokens is subjective and, even though grading has a material effect on the value of the coins, currency and cryptocurrency tokens, grading may differ among independent grading services and among numismatists. Stack's Bowers is not responsible for the grades assigned by independent grading services, and makes no warranty or representation regarding such grades. Bidder further acknowledges and agrees that grades assigned by Stack's Bowers and lot descriptions are based solely upon an examination of the coins, currency and cryptocurrency tokens and are intended to identify coins, currency and cryptocurrency and note any perceived characteristics. However, coin grading and descriptions are subjective. Stack's Bowers does not warrant the accuracy of such grading or descriptions, nor do they in any way form the basis for any bid. All photographs in this catalog are of the actual items being sold but may not be the actual size or to scale.

3. The Bidding Process. The Auctioneer shall have the right to open or accept the bidding on any lot by placing a bid on behalf of the Consignor or his or her agent; a Bidder by mail, telephone, Internet or telefax; or any other participant in the Auction Sale. Bids must be for an entire lot and each lot constitutes a separate sale. All bids must be on increment as established by the Auctioneer, or half increment (a cut bid). Non-conforming bids will be rounded down to the nearest half or full increment and this rounded bid will be the bidder's high bid. No lot will be broken up unless otherwise permitted by the Auctioneer. Lots will be sold in their numbered sequence unless Auctioneer directs otherwise. All material shall be sold in separate lots to the highest Bidder as determined by the Auctioneer. Auctioneer shall have the right in its sole and absolute discretion to accept or decline any bid, establish bid increments, challenge any bid or bidding increment, to reduce any mail bid received, adjudicate all bidding disputes, to exclude any bidder and to determine the prevailing bid. The Auctioneer shall have the right, but not the obligation, to rescind the acceptance of any bid and place the lot(s) for Auction Sale again. Auctioneer's decision on all bidding disputes shall be binding and final. For the mail and Internet Bidder's protection, no "unlimited" or "buy" bids will be accepted. When identical bids are received for a lot, preference is given to the first bid received as determined by the Auctioneer. A mail bid will take precedence over an identical floor bid; a Floor Bidder, Telephone Bidder and Live Internet Bidder must bid higher than the highest mail bid to be awarded any lot. Cut bids are only accepted on bids greater than $500 and each bidder may only execute one cut bid per lot. Bids will not be accepted from persons under eighteen (18) years of age without a parent's written consent which acknowledges the Terms of Sale herein and agrees to be bound thereby on behalf of the underage Bidder. The auction sale is complete when the Auctioneer so announces by the fall of the hammer or in any other customary manner.

THIS IS NOT AN APPROVAL SALE. Bidders who physically attend the Auction sale, either personally or through an agent ("Floor Bidders") should carefully examine all lots which they are interested in purchasing. Bidders who bid by telephone, either personally or through an agent, or through our live auction software receive a similar benefit as Floor Bidders in being able to actively participate in the live Auction Sale ("Telephone Bidders" and "Live Internet Bidders"). Except as otherwise expressly provided in these Terms of Sale, NO PURCHASED ITEMS MAY BE RETURNED FOR ANY REASON. All prospective Bidders who examine the lot(s) prior to the Auction Sale personally assume all responsibility for any damage that Bidder causes to the lot(s). Stack's Bowers shall have sole discretion in determining the value of the damage caused, which shall be promptly paid by such Bidder.

Certain auctions or auction sessions, will be conducted exclusively over the Internet, and bids will be accepted only from pre-registered Bidders.

STACK'S BOWERS IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY ERRORS IN BIDDING. All Bidders should make certain to bid on the correct lot and that the bid is the bid intended. Once the hammer has fallen and the Auctioneer has announced the Buyer, the Buyer is unconditionally bound to pay for the lot, even if the Buyer made a mistake. Stack's Bowers reserves the right to withdraw any lot at any time, even after the hammer has fallen, until the Buyer has taken physical possession of the lot. No participant in the Auction Sale shall have a right to claim any damages, including consequential damages if a lot is withdrawn, even if the withdrawal occurs after the Auction Sale.

4. Bidder Registration Required. All persons seeking to bid must complete and sign a registration card either at the auction or online, or otherwise qualify to bid, as determined in the sole discretion of the Auctioneer. By submitting a bid, the Bidder acknowledges that Bidder has read the Terms and Conditions of Auction Sale, the descriptions for the lot(s) on which they have bid, and that they agree to be bound by these Terms of Sale. This agreement shall be deemed to have been made and entered in California. The Bidder acknowledges that the invoice describing a lot by number incorporates the catalog and Terms of Sale. Person appearing on the OFAC list are not eligible to bid.

5. Buyer's Premiums. A premium of twenty percent (20%) based upon the total amount of the hammer (minimum of $20), will be added to all purchases of individual lots, regardless of affiliation with any group or organization (the "Buyer's Premium"). A reacquisition charge may apply to Consignors pursuant to a separate agreement, which may be higher or lower than the Buyer's Premium.

6. Payment. Payment is due immediately upon the fall of the auctioneer's hammer. Payment is delinquent and in default if not received in full, in good funds, within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Auction Sale (the "Default Date"), without exception, time being of the essence. Unless otherwise agreed in writing prior to the Auction Sale, all auction sales are payable strictly in U.S. Dollars or Hong Kong Dollars. All invoices will be made in United States Dollars. If paying in Hong Kong Dollars, Buyer's invoices will be credited with the amount of U.S. Dollars at the rate established by the Auctioneer at the time of the Auction Sale. Payments may be made by credit card, Paypal, Union Pay, check, wire transfer, money order and cashier's check. Cash transactions will be accepted in the sole discretion of Stack's Bowers, and if accepted, for any cash transaction or series of transactions exceeding $10,000, a Treasury Form 8300 will be filed. Contact Stack's Bowers for wiring instructions before sending a wire. Bank wires sent from a foreign bank are subject to an international bank wire fee of $35. We accept payment by Visa, Mastercard, American Express, Discover or Paypal for invoices up to $2,500, with a maximum of $10,000 in any 30 day period. All payments are subject to a clearing period. Checks drawn on U.S. banks will be subject to up to a 10 business day hold, and checks drawn on foreign banks will be subject to a 30 day hold. Stack's Bowers reserves the right not to release lots for which good funds have not yet been received. On any past due accounts, Stack's Bowers reserves the right, without notice, to extend credit and impose carrying charges (as described below). Buyers agree to pay reasonable attorney's fees and cost incurred to collect past due accounts. Any invoice not paid by the Default Date will bear a five percent (5%) late fee on the invoice amount. Buyers personally and unconditionally guarantee payment in full of all amounts owed to Stack's Bowers. Any person submitting bids on behalf of a corporation or other entity, by making such bid, agrees to be personally jointly and severally liable for the payment of the purchase price and any related charges and the performance of all Buyer obligations under these Terms of Sale and Stack's Bowers reserves the right to require a written guarantee of such payments and obligations. Bidders who have not established credit with Stack's Bowers must furnish satisfactory information and credit references and/or deposit at least twenty-five percent (25%) of their total bids for that Auction Sale session(s) or such other amount as Stack's Bowers may, in its sole and absolute discretion require before any bids from such Bidder will be accepted. Deposits submitted will be applied to purchases. Any remaining deposits will be promptly refunded, upon clearance of funds.

7. Sales Tax. Buyers will be charged all applicable sales tax unless a valid Resale Certificate has been provided to the Auctioneer prior to the auction. Should state sales tax become applicable in the delivery state prior to delivery of the property on the invoice, the Buyer agrees to pay all applicable state sales tax as required by the delivery state as of the shipping date. In the event any applicable sales tax is not paid by Buyer that should have been paid, even if not such tax was not charged or collected by Stack's Bowers by mistake, error, negligence or gross negligence, Buyer nonetheless acknowledges responsibility to pay such sales tax and remains fully liable for and agrees to promptly pay such taxes on demand, together with any interest or penalty that may be assessed by the taxing authority and agrees to indemnify and hold Auctioneer harmless from any applicable sales tax, interest or penalties due. Lots from different Auctions may not be aggregated for sales tax purposes.

8. Financial Responsibility. In the event any applicable conditions of these Terms of Sale herein are not complied with by a Buyer or if the Buyer fails to make payment in full by the Default Date, Stack's Bowers reserves the right, in its sole discretion, in addition to all other remedies which it may have at law or in equity to rescind the sale of that lot or any other lot or lots sold to the defaulting Buyer, retaining all payments made by Buyer as liquidated damages, it being recognized that actual damages may be speculative or difficult to compute, and resell a portion or all of the lots held by Stack's Bowers, in a commercially reasonable manner, which may include a public or private sale, in a quantity sufficient in the opinion of Stack's Bowers to satisfy the indebtedness, plus all accrued charges, and Stack's Bowers may charge a seller's commission that is commercially reasonable. More than one such sale may take place at the option of Stack's Bowers. If Stack's Bowers resells the lots, Buyer agrees to pay for the reasonable cost of such sale, together with any incidental costs of sale, including reasonable attorney's fees and costs, cataloging and any other reasonable charges. Notice of the sale shall be by U.S.P.S. Certified Mail, Return Receipt Requested to the address utilized on the Bid Sheet, Auction Consignment and Security Agreement or other last known address by Stack's Bowers. The proceeds shall be applied first to the satisfaction of any damages occasioned by Buyer's breach, then to any other indebtedness owed to Stack's Bowers, including without limitation, commissions, handling charges, carrying charges, the expenses of both sales, seller's fees, reasonable attorneys' fees, costs, collection agency fees and costs and any other costs or expenses incurred. Buyer shall also be liable to Stack's Bowers for any deficiency if the proceeds of such sale or sales are insufficient to cover such amounts.

Buyer grants to Stack's Bowers, its affiliates and assignees, the right to offset any sums due, or found to be due to Stack's Bowers, and to make such offset from any past, current, or future consignment, or purchases that are in the possession or control of Stack's Bowers; or from any sums due to Buyer by Stack's Bowers, its affiliates and assignees. In addition, defaulting Buyers will be deemed to have granted to Stack's Bowers, its affiliates and assignees, a security interest in: (x) the purchased lots and their proceeds, and (y) such sums or other items and their proceeds, in the possession of Stack's Bowers, its affiliates or assignees, to secure all indebtedness due to Stack's Bowers and its affiliated companies, plus all accrued expenses, carrying charges, seller's fees, attorney fees, and costs, until the indebtedness is paid in full. Buyer grants Stack's Bowers the right to file a UCC-1 financing statement for such items, and to assign such interest to any affiliated or related company or any third party deemed appropriate by Stack's Bowers. If the auction invoice is not paid for in full by the Default Date, a carrying charge of one-and-one-half percent (1-1/2%) per month may be imposed on the unpaid amount until it is paid in full. In the event this interest rate exceeds the interest permitted by law, the same shall be adjusted to the maximum rate permitted by law, and any amount paid in excess thereof shall be allocated to principal. Buyer agrees to pay all reasonable attorney's fees, court costs and other collection costs incurred by Stack's Bowers or any affiliated or related company to collect past due invoices or to interpret or enforce the terms hereof or in any action or proceeding arising out of or related to the Auction Sale. Stack's Bowers reserves the right to assign its interest to any third party. To the extent that the Buyer for any lot consists of more than one person or entity, each such person or entity is jointly and severally liable for all obligations of the Buyer, regardless of the title or capacity of such person or entity. Stack's Bowers shall have all the rights of a secured creditor under Article 9 of the California Commercial Code and all rights of the consignor to collect amounts due from the Buyer, whether at law or equity.

9. Shipping. It is the Buyer's responsibility to contact Stack's Bowers after the sale to make shipping and packaging arrangements. Due to the fragile nature of some lots, Stack's Bowers may elect not to assume responsibility for shipping or packing, or may charge additional shipping and handling. Stack's Bowers, in its sole discretion, may not ship to select countries. Lots indicated as being "framed" or that are specifically identified in the catalog are shipped at Buyer's risk. All taxes, postage, shipping, if applicable, handling, insurance costs, the Buyer's Premium, and any other fees required by law to be charged or collected will be added to the invoice for any lots invoiced to Buyer. All lots shipped to foreign countries will be billed an additional one-half percent (1/2%) for insurance (minimum of $10). For any lots delivered outside the country where the auction is hosted, the declaration value shall be the item's hammer price plus its buyer's premium. Auctioneer shall not be liable for any loss caused or resulting from seizure or destruction under quarantine or customs regulation or confiscation by order of any government or public authority. Buyer shall be responsible for paying all applicable taxes, duties and customs charges for all lots delivered outside the country where the auction is hosted. All lots will be shipped FOB Destination, freight prepaid and charged back. Title and risk of loss pass to the Buyer at the destination upon tender of delivery. Acceptance of delivery constitutes acceptance of the purchased lots. Inspection of the purchased lots is not required for acceptance. Any and all claims based upon Buyer's failure to receive a purchased lot, Buyer's receipt of a lot in damaged condition, or otherwise related to delivery, must be received in writing by Stack's Bowers no later than the earlier of thirty (30) days after payment, or the date of the Auction Sale (the "Outside Claim Date"). As Buyers may not receive notification of shipment, it is Buyer's responsibility to keep track of the Outside Claim Date and make timely notification of any such claim. The failure to make a timely claim, time being of the essence, shall constitute a waiver of any such claim. Orders paid by credit card will only be shipped to the verified address on file with the credit card merchant.

10. DISCLAIMER AND WARRANTIES. NO WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE IS MADE OR IMPLIED ON ANY LOT. NO WARRANTY, WHETHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, IS MADE WITH RESPECT TO ANY LOT EXCEPT FOR WARRANTY OF TITLE, AND IN THE CASE OF TITLE, AUCTIONEER IS SELLING ONLY THAT RIGHT OR TITLE TO THE LOT THAT THE CONSIGNOR MAY HAVE AS OF THE AUCTION SALE DATE. ALL LOTS ARE SOLD "AS IS" AND WITH ALL FAULTS. PURCHASER HEREBY ASSUMES ALL RISKS CONCERNING AND RELATED TO THE GRADING, QUALITY, DESCRIPTION, CONDITION, AND PROVENANCE OF A LOT.

a. COINS, CURRENCY AND CRYPTOCURRENCY TOKENS LISTED IN THIS CATALOG AS GRADED AND ENCAPSULATED BY PCGS, NGC, ANACS, ICG, PCGS CURRENCY, PMG, PCGS BANKNOTE GRADING, CMC OR ANY OTHER THIRD PARTY GRADING SERVICE ARE SOLD "AS-IS" EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH HEREIN AND MAY NOT BE RETURNED FOR ANY REASON WHATSOEVER BY ANY BUYER. ALL THIRD PARTY GRADING SERVICE GUARANTEES, INCLUDING AUTHENTICITY, ARE THE SOLE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE THIRD PARTY GRADING SERVICE AND NOT WARRANTIES OR GUARANTEES OF THE AUCTIONEER. BUYERS SHOULD CONTACT THESE THIRD PARTY GRADING SERVICES DIRECTLY WITH RESPECT TO ANY CLAIMS OR QUESTIONS THEY MAY HAVE CONCERNING THEIR GUARANTEES AND WARRANTIES. BUYERS ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE THAT AUCTIONEER IS NOT BOUND BY OR LIABLE FOR ANY OPINION OR CERTIFICATION BY ANY THIRD PARTY GRADING SERVICE.

b. In the case of non-certified coins, currency and cryptocurrency tokens that have neither been examined by the Buyer prior to the Auction Sale, nor purchased by the Buyer or Buyer's agent at the Auction Sale, if it is determined in a review by Stack's Bowers that there is a material error in the catalog description of a non-certified coin, currency, or cryptocurrency token such lot may be returned, provided written notice is received by Stack's Bowers no later than seventy-two (72) hours of delivery of the lots in question, and such lots are returned and received by Stack's Bowers, in their original, sealed containers, no later than fourteen (14) calendar days after delivery, in the same condition the lot(s) were delivered to the Buyer, time being of the essence. Non-certified coins, currency and cryptocurrency tokens that have been either examined by the Buyer prior to the Auction Sale or purchased by the Buyer or Buyer's agent at the Auction Sale, will not be granted return privileges, except for authenticity.

c. All non-certified coins and currency are guaranteed to be genuine.

d. All certified and non-certified cryptocurrency tokens are guaranteed to be genuine only. Auctioneer disclaims any guaranty of any kind with respect to cryptocurrency tokens, including, but not limited to: face value, the contents or existence of any accounts, wallets, or other physical, digital or other receptacles of value, the existence of a cryptographic private key, or the ability to fund any cryptocurrency. Actual cryptocurrency value is neither confirmed nor guaranteed by Auctioneer.

If an item or items are returned pursuant to the terms herein, they must be housed in their original, sealed and unopened container.

e. Late remittance or removal of any item from its original container or third party graded holder, or altering a coin constitutes just cause for revocation of all return privileges.

f. Grading or condition of rare coins, currency and cryptocurrency tokens may have a material effect on the value of the item(s) purchased, and the opinion of others (including independent grading services) may differ with the independent grading services opinion or interpretation of Stack's Bowers. Stack's Bowers shall not be bound by any prior, or subsequent opinion, determination or certification by any independent grading service.

g. Questions regarding the minting of a coin as a "proof" or as a "business strike" relate to the method of manufacture and not to authenticity.

h. All oral and written statements made by Stack's Bowers and its employees or agents (including affiliated and related companies) are statements of opinion only, and are not warranties or representations of any kind, unless stated as a specific written warranty, and no employee or agent of Stack's Bowers has authority to vary or alter these Terms and Conditions of Auction Sale. Stack's Bowers reserves the right to vary or alter the Terms of Sale, either generally or with respect to specific persons or circumstances, in its sole discretion. Any variation or alteration shall be effective only if in writing and signed by an officer of Stack's Bowers authorized to do so.

i. Stack's Bowers is acting as an auctioneer. Title to the lots purchased passes directly from the Consignor to the Buyer. Accordingly, Stack's Bowers is not making, and disclaims, any warranty of title.

j. Bidders shall have no recourse against the Consignor for any reason whatsoever.

k. Bidder acknowledges that the numismatic and cryptocurrency token market is speculative, unregulated and volatile, and that prices may rise or fall over time. Stack's Bowers does not guarantee or represent that any customer buying for investment purposes will be able to sell for a profit in the future.

l. Bidder acknowledges and agrees that neither Stack's Bowers, nor its employees, affiliates, agents, third-party providers or consignors warrant that auctions will be unimpaired, uninterrupted or error free and accordingly shall not be liable for such events.

11. Waiver and Release. Bidder, for himself, his heirs, agents, successors and assignees, generally and specifically waives and releases, and forever discharges Stack's Bowers, and its respective affiliates, parents, officers, directors, shareholders, agents, subsidiaries, employees, managers and members and each of them, and their respective successors and assignees from any and all claims, rights, demands and causes of actions and suits, of whatever kind or nature, including but not limited to claims based upon Auctioneer's negligence, whether in law or equity, tort or otherwise, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected (a "Claim"), which Bidder may assert with respect to and/or arising out of, or in connection with any challenge to the title to or authenticity of any goods purchased, the sale itself, any lot bid upon or consigned, and/or the auction, except where such Claim is otherwise expressly authorized in these Terms of Sale. It is the intention of Bidder that this waiver and release shall be effective as a bar to each and every Claim that may arise hereunder or be related to the Auction Sale, and Bidder hereby knowingly and voluntarily waives any and all rights and benefits otherwise conferred upon him by the provisions of Section 1542 of the California Civil Code, which reads in full as follows:

"A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS WHICH THE CREDITOR OR RELEASING PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE, WHICH IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER MUST HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR OR RELEASED PARTY."

12. Disputes. If a dispute arises concerning ownership of a lot or concerning proceeds of any sale, Stack's Bowers reserves the right to commence a statutory inter-pleader proceeding at the expense of the Consignor and Buyer and any other applicable party, and in such event shall be entitled to its reasonable attorneys' fees and costs. Stack's Bowers reserves the right to cancel or postpone the Auction Sale or any session thereof for any reason whatsoever. No Bidder shall have any claim as a result thereof, including for incidental or consequential damages. Neither Stack's Bowers nor any affiliated or related company shall be responsible for incidental or consequential damages arising out of any failure of the Terms of Sale, the auction or the conduct thereof and in no event shall such liability exceed the purchase price, premium, or fees paid. Rights granted to Bidders under the within Terms and Conditions of Auction Sale are personal and apply only to the Bidder who initially purchases the lot(s) from Stack's Bowers. The rights may not be assigned or transferred to any other person or entity, whether by sale of the lot(s), operation of law or otherwise. Any attempt to assign or transfer any such rights shall be absolutely void and unenforceable. No third party may rely on any benefit or right conferred by these Terms and Conditions of Auction Sale.

Any dispute arising out of or related to these Terms of Sale, the Auction Sale or any lot, with the sole exception of actions by Stack's Bowers to collect amounts owed to it and other damages, shall be submitted to binding arbitration pursuant to the commercial arbitration rules of the American Arbitration Association, with any arbitration hearing to occur in Orange County, California. Absent an agreement of the parties, the arbitrator shall limit discovery to that which is necessary to enable the hearing to proceed efficiently. The arbitrator shall not have the power to award punitive or consequential damages, nor alter, amend modify any of the terms of this Agreement. The award by the arbitrator, if any, may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof. Each party shall pay one-half the costs of the arbitration. Bidder acknowledges and agrees that the competent courts of the State of California shall have exclusive in personam jurisdiction, subject to the requirement to arbitrate, over any dispute(s) arising hereunder, regardless of any party's current or future residence or domicile. Bidder further agrees that venue of the arbitration proceeding shall be in Orange County, California; and any court proceeding shall be in the Orange County Superior Court, in the State of California, and in each case waive any claim of Forum Non Conveniens. Bidder agrees that any arbitration or legal action with respect to this Auction Sale is barred unless commenced within one (1) year of the date of this Auction Sale. AUC-TION PARTICIPANTS EXPRESSLY WAIVE ANY RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY.

13. General Terms. These Terms and Conditions of Auction Sale and the auction shall be construed and enforced in accordance with, and governed by, the laws of the State of California, regardless of the location of the Auction Sale. These Terms of Sale and the information on the Stack's Bowers' website constitute the entire agreement between the parties hereto on the subject matter hereof and supersede all other agreements, understandings, warranties and representations concerning the subject matter hereof. If any section of these Terms of Auction Sale or any term or provision of any section is held to be invalid, void, or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, the remaining sections or terms and provisions of a section shall continue in full force and effect without being impaired or invalidated in any way. Stack's Bowers may at its sole and absolute discretion, make loans or advances to Consignors and/or Bidders.
